

NINE MORE TRUE BILLS RETURNED BY GRAND JURY

Nine true bills were returned by the August Grand Jury Monday afternoon, bringing to 12 the number of indictments handed up in Adams County court during the day.

With the jury not completing its work on the trial list until 4:20 o'clock Monday afternoon, the court told the group it would not order the jury to make the usual inspection of the county jail, county home and court house, but that if any members of the jury wanted to make an informal inspection, the sheriff would act as guide. Four of the jurors took advantage of the offer.

Indicted Monday afternoon were: Lawrence Storm, Hanover R. 1, morals charge; Edwin Lewis Carty, Thurmont R. 1, driving while under the influence; Jack Chamberlain, Gettysburg, carrying concealed weapons; James Edward Wanz, Emmitsburg R. 2, perjury; Hubert L. Wise, 702 S. Washington St., operating after suspension; Richard Paul Mummert, Hanover R. 3, burglary and larceny and larceny; Willis Bierly, 22 York St., assault and battery, and Charles A. Rippeon, Hanover, assault and battery.

Several cases were continued to November. The morals charges against Eugene B. Miller, 128 West St., Hanover, and Genevieve G. Cullison, Fairfield R. 2, were both continued when physicians held that Miss Cullison would not be able to appear in court Monday. The open lewdness case against Russell I. Sheffer, Chambersburg, was also continued to November because of the inability of Commonwealth witness to be present for the current term of court. The cases against Charles H. Gardner, York Springs R. 2, charged with removing goods under levy and against Robert L. Gardner and Benjamin V. Gardner, York Springs R. 2, charged with obstructing an officer in service of process were continued because of technicalities in the indictments.

The assault and battery charge brought against Paul C. Ramer, Orrtanna R. D., by his wife Norma E. Ramer, was continued at Mrs. Ramer's request. She reported she and her husband were reconciled and "getting along well" and asked that trial be delayed "to see how things work out."

Case Is Dropped

The assault and battery charge against Harry Stonessifer, Gettysburg R. 1, brought by his wife, Mary Stonessifer, was dropped at Mrs. Stonessifer's request.

While the grand jury was considering the cases to be brought to trial, the court spent most of the day in hearing testimony and argument on the equity action of Clarence R. Hartlaub, Gettysburg versus Mrs. Margaret Gladys Hartlaub, Gettysburg R. D. Late Monday afternoon the court announced that it will enter a final decree in which the property of the two will be divided. Certain articles of personal property belonging to Mrs. Hartlaub, as having come from her home, will be turned over to her, certain other articles adjudged to have come from Mr. Hartlaub's home will be awarded to him. The remainder of the household goods, tools, real estate, etc. which it was agreed were community property, will be sold and the proceeds divided equally between the two after costs and possible liens are paid. Attorney Donald G. Oyler was appointed as trustee to make sale of the property and division of the money arising from the sale.

Leeti Team Captain For Cost Accountants

John A. Leeti, Biglerville, has been appointed as a team captain for the York Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants, and will be responsible for contacting members in the Gettysburg area prior to chapter meetings and social affairs. The appointment was made by Frank V. McConkey, president of the association's York Chapter.

Leeti, who has been a member of the association since 1950, is an accountant at Knouse Food, Peach Glen.

EMERGENCY OPERATION

Robert Leslie Sachs, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs, Locust Lane, submitted to an emergency operation Sunday afternoon following an acute attack of appendicitis at his home here. Mr. Sachs, who was graduated from Gettysburg College in June, is reported by his family to be recovering satisfactorily.

FLOHR REUNION SUNDAY

The reunion of all Flohrs and their descendants will be held Sunday at Big Pipe Creek Park, east of Tanfytown, Md., President Lewis B. Flohr has announced.

Honor Mrs. Mishler On 90th Birthday; Gets 30-Year Pin

Mrs. Mishler is shown cutting a large birthday cake in the board of directors' room in the Warner Hospital Monday afternoon. The cake was in recognition of Mrs. Mishler's 90th birthday anniversary. She has been on the hospital staff 31 years.

The 90th birthday of Mrs. Annie "Ma" Mishler was observed at the Warner Hospital Monday afternoon at a program which included the presentation of service pins to Mrs. Mishler and a number of other members of the staff.

Feature of the affair, held in the board of directors' room at the hospital, was a huge birthday cake in Mrs. Mishler's honor.

Actual date of the birthday was August 2, but Mrs. Mishler was on a 10-day vacation visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Long, Pittsburgh, at the time and so the celebration was delayed until her return.

Walter Dillon, administrator at the hospital, presented Mrs. Mishler with a gold and blue 30-year service pin for her 31 years of "service to humanity."

Oldest hospital employee in point of service, Mrs. Mishler became the first bookkeeper of the hospital back in 1923, when the hospital opened. She continued as a one-woman office force until about 1932 when additional help was employed. Later she became full time housekeeper for the hospital and has remained as housekeeper since. During the years she has been noted for her sewing, and has sewed thousands of garments, and other articles for the hospital. In addition to her regular duties she has devoted hundreds of hours of her spare time to the hospital as one of the most active members of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Despite her 90 years she is extremely active in the work of the hospital.

AUTHORITY BD. TAKES ACTION ON COMPLAINTS

The Gettysburg Municipal Authority Monday evening moved to make permanent installations connecting the well near the water works with the borough's water system and called in engineers to determine the cause of complaints concerning odors from the town's sewage disposal system.

Presented to the board at its meeting in the law offices of Bulleit and Bulleit, in the First National Bank Building, were several complaints from residents of the east end of town that an odor emanated from the disposal plant at certain times. The complaints observed that generally, even during the driest period of the drought, when in prior years the stench was the worst from the system, there was no odor from the town's new disposal system. However, according to the complaints, within the last several weeks on several occasions an odor was discerned.

Correction Promised

Members of the authority board called on the consulting engineers who designed the new plant and Municipal Management, which operates it, to make a study of the situation and correct whatever may be causing the problem. The system was designed and constructed to be "odor-proof" members of the authority said, and as a result they directed the engineers to see that it remains that way.

Discussion at the meeting by representatives of the consulting engineers and Municipal Management indicated that the problem may lie either with operation or adjustments or with the connecting lines. A full survey and correction of the condition was promised.

Full approval on the steps taken by the management in connection with the drought restrictions and use of the well was given by the board. E. O. Harner, vice president of Municipal Management, gave the report on the operation of the water system.

Cooperation "Excellent"

Cooperation by the general public was "excellent" Harner said, during the drought restrictions.

The board approved expenditure of approximately $8,000 to place new pumping installations in the well in order to have a permanent arrangement for sending the well water into the borough system—although the water will still be used only in emergencies.

A temporary arrangement had to be set up last month to carry the water from the well into the regular water system for the duration of the drought period. The well had not been used previously since 1931.

However, the board felt that it would be best to have a permanent installation made so that if an emergency arises the water can quickly be brought into the distribution system. The well produces 650 gallons of water per minute, sufficient to meet the town's normal needs except during the periods of heaviest pumping.

Very Pure, Very Hard

The well water is extremely pure, but contains 940 parts of mineral content per million, making it "extremely hard," the board was told. The possibility of installation of a system to soften the well water is (Continued on Page 2)

Lions Hold Picnic At Fairgrounds

With attendance and activities reduced by the thunderstorm that hit the South Mountain Fairgrounds before 6 o'clock Monday evening, the Gettysburg Lions Club held its annual family picnic there with Vice President Eugene Hartman presiding at the dinner table. About 200 attended.

The meal was served by the Shelter House but other parts of the program that included a horseshoe pitching tournament and games and contests for the children had to be cancelled. David Bloer led group singing after the meal.

George A. Albee, Martinville, Va., a former club officer, was a guest. Other guests introduced were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kamundulis, Rutland, Mass.

Here And There News Collected At Random

HOW DOES ADVERTISING BENEFIT THE PUBLIC?

Besides direct economic benefits more jobs and a higher standard of living—advertising makes possible most of our news and entertainment. Without advertising, your newspaper would go up to 20 or 30 cents per copy, and would be cut down to four or eight pages. One of the nation's leading newspapers states that without advertising it would have to quadruple its price—an increase to the newsstand buyer of $70 per year. But this is only the beginning. The quadrupled price estimate is based on present circulation. Because of advertising's high news value, its elimination would lose a lot of readers. Other readers would be priced out of the market. To compensate for this circulation loss the publisher would have to raise the price of his newspaper again, and still fewer people would buy.

Magazines would be affected in much the same way as newspapers. One magazine with a multi-million circulation says it would have to double its price for a single copy if all advertising were dropped. Another, even bigger, weekly would have to go from its present price of 20 cents per copy to 50 cents. Obviously, magazines and newspapers would publish far less news than now, and in a short time our channels of information might shrink back to what they were a half century ago.

Radio and television, with all the knowledge, relaxation and entertainment they bring, are totally paid for by advertising. Without it, one of two things would happen—every receiving set in the country would go dead, or the government would take over. In the latter event, there would be the little matter of raising taxes to pay for the $565 million invested in station and network facilities plus $500 million of annual operating expense. Neither of these figures includes the cost of producing programs.

Advertising not only makes possible far more news and entertainment than even the rich could buy 50 years ago, but also helps to educate us. (Continued on Page 2)

W. T. Grant Opens New Store In Gettysburg On Wednesday

The W. T. Grant Company will open its ultra-modern, air-conditioned, Gettysburg store at 12-14 Chambersburg St. with a 4-day "price crashing" sale beginning Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The super-sale at Grants new 1-stop shopping center will continue through Saturday. Store hours will be from 9 to 5 Wednesday through Friday, and from 9 to 9 on Saturday.

Besides the bargains galore at prices from 5 cents to $45, specially selected for Gettysburg residents by Grants sixty buying specialists at "solid savings for every shopper" two valuable door prizes will be awarded. The first prize is a $300 RCA, 21 inch mahogany console television set. A GE clock-radio valued at $27.95 is second prize. Shoppers need not purchase merchandise to be eligible for the awards. All they need do is fill out a coupon with their name and address and deposit it at the new store. The drawing will take place Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Four Stores In One

Grant values come to Gettysburg in a 1-stop shopping center that is actually 4 stores-in-1, featuring variety, fashions, dry goods, home furnishings and hardware. Balanced space, super speed counters and displays, and scientific fluorescent lighting are tailored for convenient shopping among more than 10,000 items. Pink walls provide an attractive, eye-appealing background for the items displayed.

Tremendous Assortment

Gettysburg's newest department store offers a wide assortment of everything the family needs from china to canaries, and power tools to parakeets. Thirty-five separate departments range over 10,000 square feet of floor space. Counter space alone runs to 1635 square feet, about one-third of a mile. Roomy aisles and new type "spacemaster" counters—permit Grant's varied assortment display. (Continued on Page 11)

RAIN, MERCURY FALL; REPORT STORM DAMAGE

A thunderstorm that dropped the mercury 32 degrees overnight brought 0.65 inches of rain and reports of minor damage to trees and utility lines.

The storm that struck here shortly after 6 o'clock brought to an end the first hot weather here since August 1. Monday's high was 93 degrees but the low for last night was a cool 61.

The rain brought August's current total to 3.99 inches, making it the wettest month since May. The current total represents about three-fourths of normal rainfall for August here. Normal is 4.01 inches.

The Arendtsville station reported 0.76 inches Monday evening.

Tree Blocks Street

A large limb blew off a tree at the Francis C. Cole property on High St. in Arendtsville and blocked traffic until a power saw was taken to the scene and the street cleared 20 minutes later.

The State Highway Department reported being called to remove "a number" of trees and larger limbs from roads throughout the county.

Portions of Fairfield and the Iron Springs areas were without electrical power for several hours, with both Metropolitan Edison and Adams Electric crews called for emergency duty in the section.

Electric Service Cut Off

A tree came down across Metropolitan Edison wires near Iron Springs putting that section in darkness for approximately four hours. Final repairs were not completed until this morning, with other main wires cut in to bring the power back in Fairfield Monday night.

Adams Electric reported a falling tree broke a pole between Fairfield and Emmitsburg, cutting off the cooperative's power in that area.

In addition numerous outages, mostly on individual lines, were also repaired by the crew of the two electric power companies.

The southern end of Gettysburg and a section south of the borough was without power for about a half hour when a main line broke near the Cyclorama and the power had to be cut off while repairs were made.

Some Phones Out

Metropolitan Edison also reported a tree down on a wire near Heidlersburg, cutting off power for a time there; a transformer fuse blew out at Granite Station and another similar fuse blew near Plank's Poultry farm, off the Fairfield Rd.

However Richard Drees, manager of the local Metropolitan Edison, said: "In comparison to the amount of storm, our damage was slight."

John Caldwell, manager of the United Telephone Co., reported a number of phones were put out of working order by the storm, with lightning striking wires, tree limbs falling across wires and similar disturbances caused by the storm. Trunk lines to Waynesboro, Chambersburg and Carlisle were out "off and on" throughout the night.

A number of television aereals were damaged throughout the county.

Issues Invitation To GOC Picnic Thursday

Burgess William G. Weaver, county Civil Defense director, today invited "all who are interested in civil defense" as well as Ground Observer Corps personnel to attend the GOC picnic at the South Mountain Fairgrounds Thursday afternoon and evening.

Weaver requested that those people who cannot attend the picnic be present for the evening program with speakers from both the State Council of Civil Defense and the Baltimore Filter Center will be held.

Several films connected with aircraft observation and Civil Defense will also be shown.

WOMEN HEAR J. M. QUIGLEY

James M. Quigley, congressional candidate from the Adams, York, Cumberland 19th District, addressed the Women's Democratic Club of Adams County Monday night at a regular meeting in Odd Fellows Hall, Chambersburg St. Quigley, member of a Harrisburg law firm, spoke on the "Duties and Functions of a Congressman." John D. Lippy Jr., General Assembly candidate also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Bessie M. Bringman, president of the Democratic women, expressed the group's gratitude for the results of the rummage sale conducted in July. She announced the sale netted $250, of which $100 was sent to the headquarters of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women to be used in the fall election campaign.

Mrs. Norma Moore was appointed temporary secretary to complete the unexpired term of Beatrice Ballard, who resigned.

Further plans for the operation of a booth at the South Mountain Fair was discussed. Members who are able to work at the booth were requested to notify Mrs. Bringman as soon as possible.

Hostesses at a social hour which followed the meeting were: Mrs. Bringman, Mrs. Betty Lippy, Betty Ann Sweeny, and Bessie Kapp.

Bond Sales Up In County For July

Adams countians "splurged" on Defense bonds during July, Edmund W. Thomas, president of the First National Bank and county U. S. Savings Bonds chairman, reported today.

During July countians purchased $61,825 worth of Series E and H bonds as compared to $47,069 for July a year ago. The report is compiled by state officials from sales of bonds in the various banks and post offices in the county. No particular reason could be ascribed for the sudden increase in bond purchases.

Gettysburg Native Rose Thru Ranks From Private To Lt. Col. In 32 Years

After 32 years of army service which saw him rise through the ranks from private to lieutenant colonel, Charles E. Myrick, native of Gettysburg, is sitting out the world's first peace breather in 24 years at his Seattle home.

Colonel Myrick, son of the late J. E. Myrick, a Battlefield guide, and Mrs. Myrick, was graduated from St. Francis Xavier School in 1918 and started his army career by enlisting as a private back in 1921 at Carlisle Barracks. Discharged because of a reduction in the army in the same year, he re-enlisted in 1922. After a three year hitch he was discharged again in 1925 and was married shortly afterwards.

In May 1925 he re-enlisted once more, this time in the finance department with which he has served continuously ever since. Between 1925 and 1942, Myrick held all the enlisted ranks from private to master sergeant. After a competitive examination in 1942, he was appointed a warrant officer. In June 1942, he was appointed a captain and called to active duty in this capacity on June 10 in the office of the chief of finance in Washington.

Sails For England

After several stateside tours, Myrick sailed for England with the newly formed 16th Major Port unit in 1944. Accompanying his unit to France he experienced a submarine attack on the convoy during which the raiders sank several small craft. Afterwards the troops slept on steel decks wearing life preservers until their landing on Utah Beach.

Myrick and his companions embarked in an LST hauling field safes and wooden boxes containing 19 million French francs. At St. Mere Eglise he visited the newly created cemetery for American dead where crosses marking the price that American youth had paid to breach Nazi defenses stretched endlessly.

Next Col. Myrick struck out across Normandy finally ending up at Morlaix, near Brest, which was still in the hands of the Germans. From there he moved on to the port of Le Havre, which the Germans evacuated on Myrick's birthday, September 17. The Nazis had gutted the great port town. The harbor was 100 per cent destroyed, and the city suffered 70 per cent destruction. Only 25,000 of the original population of 170,000 remained. Battered in chalets, Myrick and his colleagues had neither running water or lights.

Speedy Repairs

Despite the widespread damage, engineers rammed through repairs so that five weeks later the first vessels were unloaded in the harbor. Serving as port finance officer at LeHavre, Myrick was located at old Port de Toumeville, above the main business area. Here his duties required payment of troops and boarding of every (Continued on Page 2)

An action seeking restitution for damages involved in an automobile accident one year ago was filed Monday with the county prothonary by Charles L. Grimes against Kathleen Schriver. Both are residents of New Oxford.

The action in trespass claims that on September 12, 1953, the Schriver vehicle struck the right side of a car operated by the plaintiff's wife and damaged the right rear fender, the rear bumper, and adjacent areas.

The complaint avers Mrs. Yvonne F. Grimes was going south on S. Peters St., in New Oxford, near the E. High St. intersection. The car had stopped at the intersection and had started to cross, the action continues, when it was struck on the right side by the Schriver vehicle.

Car Upsets, Catches Fire, McSherrystown

A 20-year-old motorist escaped with minor injuries when police say his car skidded on wet pavement, collided with a parked car, upset and caught fire in front of 617 South St., McSherrystown, Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The motorist, Hugh H. Klunk, 315 Pine Street, Hanover, was treated at the office of Dr. A. A. Tananis, McSherrystown, for bruise burns containing the left chest and right ankle, contusions of the back and a lacerated foot.

He told Chief of Police Mannard Masemer he was driving east when the mishap occurred. The McSherrystown Fire Company was called to the scene but its services were not needed. Damage to Klunk's car was estimated at $700 and to the parked vehicle, owned by Joseph L. Staub, 4 Pleasant Street, New Oxford, at $200.

Lions In South, Rustlers In North Of Adams County

Cattle rustlers are reported at work in the Wierman's Mill area.

Robert Kennedy, a worker on the farm owned by Mark McCauslin, near York Springs, this morning told The Gettysburg Times that thieves attempted to carry off a calf early Friday morning but were frightened away.

Kennedy said that about 3 a.m. Friday he heard a "commotion" in one of the pastures surrounding the farm. He turned on a pole light—which he credited with causing the intruders to flee—and found a calf with a rope looped about its neck.

Residents of the area recalled a similar rustling incident several years ago when a 185-pound calf was stolen from the farm of Sherwood Spenser.

It is thought the attempted rustling can be traced to the same group of persons suspected of recent chicken thefts in that vicinity.

A few weeks ago farmers in southern sections of the county were staging mountain lion hunts without success.

Hanover Youth Is Hurt In Accident

An 18-year-old youth was hospitalized when his car ran off the Hanover-Littlestown highway just east of Mt. Pleasant, knocked down about 50 feet of fence along the Hanover Shoe farms and came to rest in a field Monday evening about 10 o'clock.

The youth was identified at Hanover General Hospital as Larry L. Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Good, 115 Forney Avenue, Hanover. He was treated for shock and bruise burns about the face and shoulders and admitted.

A passenger, William Markle, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Markle, Hanover, escaped with minor bruises. The youths were brought to the hospital by Wilbur Bechtel, 515 Frederick Street, Hanover, a passing motorist.

Damage to the car was estimated by police at $900 and to the fence at $200.

ROTARIANS "RAINED IN"

Approximately 60 members of Rotary and their ladies, attended a picnic meeting held Monday evening in the Marsh Creek Heights cottages of Dr. Bruce N. Wolff and Joseph E. Codori. The picnic had been planned for the lawn, but was moved indoors because of the rain. There was no program.

Asks Investigations Of Saturdays Fires

Morris Gitlin told The Gettysburg Times today that cars which caught fire Saturday afternoon and evening at his brickyard property were set on fire by prowlers there on both occasions. He denied the report that they had been deliberately fired to get rid of fabric and other combustibles so that their metal parts could be salvaged.

Mr. Gitlin said he has asked local police to check on two youths reported seen in the brickyard area shortly before both fires occurred.

34 Democrats And 19 Republicans Listed

Thirty-four Democrats and 19 Republicans have registered so far during the special registration being held throughout the county.

Last week seven Democrats and two Republicans registered at Arendtsville and two Republicans and one Democrat registered during the nine hours the traveling registrars were in Bendersville.

Monday 26 Democrats and 15 Republicans signed as voters in Conewago Twp.

Today the traveling registrars are at Abbotstown and Wednesday they will be at York Springs, at the engine house. Thursday the registration will be held at the New Oxford engine house and Friday at the IOOF hall in Fairfield.

Firemen Respond To 2 Alarms Monday

The Gettysburg Fire Department responded to two fires Monday—one in the early afternoon and the other after the evening storm.

Firemen were called to Plank's Dump, two and one-half miles south of town, at 2:15 p.m., to extinguish a brush fire set ablaze by a pile of burning rubber draped over the dump edge.

Using water pumped from Rock Creek, firemen remained at the dump until 6:15 p.m.

After the wind and rain had abated Monday evening, firemen were summoned to the rear of 2nd York St. where an electric transformer wire had dropped on a garage roof. The call was received at 6:45 o'clock. Fifteen minutes later the fire equipment returned to the Engine House.

Texaco Service Station Is Robbed

Thieves broke through a damaged side window of the Texaco Service Station, Steinwehr Ave., sometime late Monday evening or early this morning and stole an estimated $165 in cash.

Joseph Codori told borough police that the burglar entered the building by way of a cracked window facing S. Washington St.

The money was stolen from a cash drawer but the thief reportedly did not attempt to take what was described as "a lot of loose change" also in the drawer.

Police are continuing their investigation.

SOLON AMAZED OVER FEELING AGAINST JOE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said today he is so amazed at the "intensity of feeling" over Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that he is going to quit reading newspaper editorials and his mail while he directs a study of censure charges against McCarthy.

"I don't want to have any prejudice in this investigation," he said. His decision to lower a curtain on opinion reports—including those on radio and television—came as Chairman Mundt (R-SD) called the Senate Investigations subcommittee together to begin work on its McCarthy-Army report.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member, said the Mundt subcommittee may get down to some voting tomorrow on conclusions members reached from 36 days of hearings on the controversy between McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides.

Blames Both Sides
Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), another subcommittee member, was reported to have arrived at the conclusion that principals on both sides of the dispute were at fault.

The Chicago Tribune said Potter had given Mundt a report saying Stevens showed a lack of capacity for administrative decision and was motivated by a desire to end an investigation of communism in the Army. McCarthy, it said, was pictured as having done nothing to stop alleged efforts by Subcommittee Counsel Roy M. Cohn to get favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former subcommittee aid. It said Cohn was also criticized as was Army Counsel John G. Adams.

Potter was not immediately available.

Thomas McIntyre, an aide to Potter, told a reporter the document "is nothing that Sen. Potter ever wrote, and I doubt that he even has read it through."

McIntyre described it as a "rough draft" which he personally had put together and submitted to Potter for criticism. McIntyre said he also handed a copy of it to an aide to Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho).

"It is something that has no implied approval from anyone on the committee," McIntyre said.

"It is just some of my own work."

OPPONENTS OF FARM MEASURE NOT CONFIDENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vocal opponents of the administration's farm program planned last-ditch protests, but even they anticipated speedy congressional approval—perhaps today—of a hard-fought compromise.

Two Republican critics of flexible and lower price supports incorporated in the measure said they would speak against the compromise agreement they refused to sign yesterday. Both Sen. Young (ND) and Rep. Andresen (Minn.), however, conceded defeat.

The toughest battle in four days of Senate-House conferences on the omnibus farm bill was over dairy supports.

The final agreement sanctioned a level of 75 per cent of parity, a measure of farm prices calculated to reflect farm costs. Secretary of Agriculture Benson, citing millions of pounds of surplus on government hands, cut dairy prices to that point from a previous 90 per cent last April.

More School Milk
Conferees rejected a House-proposed floor of 80 per cent from Sept. 1 to next April, but picked up House provisions intended to drain the surplus. These would supply additional milk to school children and channel more butter and cheese to the armed forces and Veterans Administration.

Aiken said one Senate provision "is a slap at Secretary Benson and gives his enemies a chance to crow."

Senate Democrats with the aid of a few Republicans voted 45-44 to nullify Benson's limit of three straight terms on members of the farm committees that administer federal programs. The clause was retained, even though Eisenhower had asked that it be eliminated.

The President also was rebuffed to some degree when conferees kept a ceiling of 110 per cent of parity on special incentive payments plus market prices on domestic wool and put a four-year limit on the wool program.

NAB 3 BEFORE QUEEN ARRIVES

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Northern Ireland's strongest-ever security net snared three armed men today a few hours before the arrival of Queen Elizabeth II for the launching of a passenger liner.

Police announced they detained three occupants of an automobile before dawn at Newry, 45 miles south of Belfast on the border between Northern and Southern Ireland. Four other men in the automobile escaped in the darkness.

The Queen last visited Belfast in July, 1953, during her post-coronation tour. As she arrived there, anti-royalists blew up a railroad bridge and sabotaged the city's power supply in protest.

The reason for the Queen's visit was a 20,000-ton marine curiosity to be named Southern Cross, the world's first passenger liner to have its engines and funnel in the stern.

The designers say that with the engines at the rear, they have been able to keep all the midsips area for unusually spacious passenger accommodation.

Police discounted any suggestion the monarch herself was a target for the men they arrested. They said the men were "not on the way to Belfast." Officials believed they planned to blow up something near Newry, as a demonstration against the Queen's visit.

The Queen launched the liner to commemorate her recent Commonwealth tour.

STUDEBAKER OKAYS MERGER WITH PACKARD

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Studebaker Corp. stockholders today approved a merger with the Packard Motor Car Co.

The Studebaker stockholders voted 1,296,846 to 28,274 in favor of the merger. The new company, if similarly approved today by Studebaker stockholders will be known as the Studebaker-Packard Corp.

Packard stockholders are meeting in Detroit where they are expected to take similar action today. A two-thirds favorable vote was required for approval by both stockholder groups.

The resolution to sell Studebaker's property and assets for $3,542,187 shares of $10 par stock in the new firm passed without opposition from the handful of stockholders present at the annual meeting in Studebaker's Wilmington office.

Paul G. Hoffman, chairman of the board of Studebaker, presided at the meeting. Stockholders present at the meeting represented 1,955,320 shares or 82 per cent of the 1,360,548 shares of common stock outstanding, the company said.

Anticipating stockholder approval, company spokesmen said Studebaker-Packard Corp. probably would be operating before the end of September.

James J. Nance, 53-year-old president of Packard, would be president and principal executive officer of the new company; Hoffman, 63, would become its board chairman; and Harold S. Vance, 63, head of the executive committee.

Packard stockholders voted a total of 12,016,402 shares, or 82.9 per cent of the total outstanding stock. Of the shares voted almost 90 per cent favored the merger. Studebaker shareholders voted 1,955,320 shares, or 82 per cent of the total shares. Of these 98.6 per cent favored the merger.

IKE REGISTERS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower paid a flying visit to New York today and registered as voters for the Nov. 2 elections. They also applied for absentee ballots.

A heavy police guard was provided for the couple during their brief stay. They arrived at the Kennedy Airport at 9:20 a.m. (EDT) and took off again for Washington at 10:40 a.m.

Approximately 1,000 police were assigned along the Eisenhower's route from the airport to the Board of Elections headquarters on the lower East Side.

They made the trip in a 12-car motorcade accompanied by 110 policemen on motorcycles. A police helicopter hovered above the line of cars carrying police, secret service men and newspapermen. Spectators along the route, attracted by the sound of the motorcycle sirens, waved and applauded as the President passed.

Boat Gives Salute
As his car turned off Triborough Bridge onto Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, a tugboat heading up the East River gave him a lone one-blast salute.

Several hundred persons, the largest individual group along the way, was clustered around the Board of Elections headquarters.

The President and his wife spent less than 10 minutes inside. The latter's maid, Rose Woods, joined them in registering. All three gave 60 Morningside Heights as their address. That was Eisenhower's residence while he was president of Columbia University.

Altogether, the President was absent from Washington only 3 hours 20 minutes. He left there at 8:20 a.m. and arrived in Washington at 11:40 a.m.

BAILS OUT OF BLAZING JET

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A Navy jet fighter pilot bailed out of his blazing ship at 17,000 feet altitude near the Naval Air Station here today.

He landed safely on a river bank with only superficial bruises.

The pilot, Lt. Robert C. Harris, attached to Naval Air Development Squadron 3 at the station, was rescued a short time after he abandoned his plane near Weekstown.

Commanding Officer Hawley Russell of the squadron said Harris landed on a bank of the Mullica River about two miles east of Weekstown. The plane crashed two miles northeast of the town in a dense woods causing a fire.

The naval base first aid squad picked up Harris while his fire brigade rushed to put out the fire in the woods.

3 INJURED IN PLANE CRASH

KENNETT SQUARE, Pa. (AP)—A small passenger plane crashed and burst into flames shortly after taking off today injuring the pilot and three passengers.

State police said the plane, piloted by Richard Johnson, 37-year-old assistant cashier of the Avondale National Bank, failed to gain altitude after the takeoff and crashed on a road which runs from London Grove to Upland.

The passengers in the plane were identified as Morris H. Dixon Jr., and William Cocks, both of Kennett Square R. D. 1, and Jack Anderson of West Grove, Pa. Police said the men were headed for Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and a day at the races there.

Dixon was hospitalized at Chester County Hospital where he was reported "in very bad shape" with serious burns. He was trapped in the flaming wreckage and it took rescuers some time to extricate him. Anderson, with back injuries, and Johnson with possible skull and ankle fractures were detained at Wilmington Memorial Hospital at Wilmington, Del., 20 miles to the south.

Cocks was treated for lacerations at the Chester County Hospital and discharged.

The Cessna plane, valued at $10,000, was destroyed.

under investigation, but at present would be too expensive to warrant installation except in case of abnormal need, the board was told. Future developments in water softening might, however, make it possible for the well water to become a regular part of the water supply for the town, according to the discussion.

Receipt of a check for $8,322.34 from the state was noted. The amount is a reimbursement approved by the state legislature last year to municipalities which have spent money for construction of sewer treatment works.

By action of the board the $8,322.34 was placed in an account for permanent improvements and additions to the system. Similar funds expected from the state in the next few years will also go into that fund. Financial reports presented at the meeting showed the authority in "good shape" with sufficient cash on hand to meet payment of bonds, operating expenditures and set aside funds for future development.

HARRISBURG (AP)—David M. Barnhart, postmaster at Stoystown, has been named Somerset County co-ordinator for 1954 Pennsylvania Week, to be observed Oct. 10-17.

Barnhart also will assist Charles B. Burkett of Huntingdon, vice chairman of the West-south Central Region, in making preparations for the observance in Bedford, Cambria, Clearfield, Blair, Huntingdon, Fulton, Centre and Mifflin counties in addition to Somerset.

WILLIAMS PORT, Pa. (AP)—Charles T. Logue, 88-year-old columnist on the Williamsport Gazette and Bulletin, died last night.

Known as the dean of working newspapermen in Williamsport, Logue joined the Gazette and Daily more than 40 years ago. He wrote a daily column in the paper during the entire time of his employment. A native of Lock Haven, he is survived by a son, Paul, and a brother, Albert, both of Williamsport.

vessel entering the harbor day or night.

In 1946 Myrick was transferred to Wiesbaden, Germany, where he took over the largest Air Force finance office in Europe, servicing also all outlying districts and USAF HQ personnel including the commanding general, Lt. Gen. Edwards and his staff. In September 1946 Myrick's family arrived and his two daughters Pat and Phyllis shortly began work for civil service in Wiesbaden.

During his duty here, Myrick found time to make periodic visits through most of Europe, including Holland, Luxembourg, Belgium, France, Italy, and Czechoslovakia. He found Rome, Naples, Pompei, Lourdes, and Capri most interesting, and managed to visit Prague just before the iron curtain was lowered. In Paris he visited his daughter Pat who had recently married. In October 1947 he left Germany to return to the states.

Ordered To Korea

Assigned to the Davis-Monthan air force base in Tucson on his return to the states, he was transferred to Seattle in 1949 as assistant to the finance officer. In 1951 he was appointed finance officer.

With the outbreak of the Korean War, Col. Myrick was ordered to Korea in February, 1953. He flew from Seattle to Yokohama and then by flying boxcar to Seoul, where he was assigned to the 8th army finance section.

Bored by the monotony of Seoul duty, Myrick volunteered for duty with the 2nd infantry division, a combat outfit in the Chosun Valley. His first night he experienced a Red artillery assault. Myrick says that he will never forget the night the Korean truce became effective because of a steady barrage from both sides all along the front. For him the combat service in Korea was the most satisfactory part of his entire service. "The privilege of working with and serving men who risk their lives daily is something that you don't forget," he says.

Before his departure from Korea he was made an honorary member of the Dutch and French battalions and received a letter of appreciation from the Korean finance officer, Major General Baringer, commanding division general, awarded him the Bronze Star at dinner in the general's mess the night before he left. Sailing from Inchon he was retired at Camp Stoneham on November 30 and then joined his family in Seattle.

Since retirement, Col. Myrick has been mainly concerned with the business of putting around his house and garden. He hopes shortly to take a hotel position a little farther north of Seattle.

Teachers Ask For Better Pay Plank

HARRISBURG (AP)—Organized teachers of Pennsylvania today asked the Democratic party to back increased minimum and maximum salaries for class room instructors of the state.

Harvey E. Gayman, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Assn. asked Democratic platform makers for a plank calling for increased minimum salary from $2,400 to $3,600 or $3,400 and a raise in the maximum salary, with a bachelor's degree, from $4,400 to above $5,000.

"Experienced teachers should be earning at least $5,000 a year to maintain a decent standard of living, educate their children and live in the manner expected of their standing in the community," said Gayman.

The organized teachers' representative testified for more than an hour before the Democratic platform committee, which opened two days of public hearings on suggestions for the party's fall election platform.

Rufus Weaver's Idea Pays Off

Rufus B. Weaver, former Adams County deputy sheriff who once lived at 313 Buford Ave., is shown above receiving the congratulations of Col. Roland P. Carlson, commanding officer at Fort Slocum, New Rochelle, N. Y., after the colonel presented a certificate and cash award to Mr. Weaver for his accepted idea to increase efficiency on the Army post.

He recommended the installation of a device in the carpenter shop to aid workers in milling long material. The idea was submitted in connection with the Department of Defense Suggestion Program to encourage civilian employees and servicemen to think of ideas which could be adopted to reduce operating costs and improve working conditions. Acceptance of the idea brought Weaver a $15 cash award. Witnessing the brief ceremony at post headquarters is Lt. Col. Theodore M. Ball, post executive officer.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

At Boston: Quite a number of Gettysburgians left on Saturday to attend the National Encampment of G. A. R. at Boston, which is being held this week. Those who are in attendance from here are as follows: Mrs. Sallie M. Stewart, as national treasurer of the Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War; Dr. Henry Stewart, as delegate from the Pennsylvania Division of the Sons of Veterans to the National Encampment; Miss Annie Hake, a representative of the Pennsylvania Department of the Ladies of the G. A. R.; R. C. Miller and wife, J. Harry Stine, J. W. Bumbaugh, Harry J. Rhine, Guyon Kitzmiller and George Sionaker.

Public School Notice: The public schools of Gettysburg will open Thursday, September 1.

Last year the school board passed a resolution not to admit any more pupils from districts outside of the Gettysburg borough. This action was rescinded at a meeting in June of this year, so far as the High School is concerned. We, therefore, will admit to the High School pupils not residing in Gettysburg.

The entrance examination to the High School will be held on Tuesday, August 30. There has been a revision of the course of study which will give pupils a much greater advantage than they have had in previous terms. It is hoped that the boys and girls of our town will take advantage of the opportunities which our Board of Directors have provided for William I. Book, Principal.

At Atlantic City: Among those who availed themselves of the cheap excursion rate to Atlantic City on Thursday, and who are now enjoying the sea breezes at the popular resort are the following: William B. Fleming and wife, T. J. Winebrenner and wife, J. E. Plank and wife, Mrs. J. Harry Holtzworth and daughter, Miss Kate Gilbert and nephew, Gilbert Reen, Harry C. Sanders, Elias Dillfield, Misses Besse Vinton, Eva Holtzworth, Lillie and Lizzie Daugherty, Daisy Long, Harry B. Martine and Harry and Bert Cole, of Buchanan Valley.

Cow In Cess' Pool: The top of the Reading railroad cess pool north of the depot was carried away by the flood Wednesday afternoon and in consequence one of P. G. Breighner's cows, which was grazing in the field, fell into it. The animal succeeded in keeping her head above the water for about fifteen minutes, when by reason of the water having raised about three feet above the top, she succeeded in getting out.

Saved By Elder Sister: Annie, a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Kimmel, of Reading township, fell into a spring near their house a few days ago. Sara, an older sister seeing the child in its predicament hastened to its rescue and saved the little one from drowning.

Bright Outlook For College: The outlook for new students at College this fall was never brighter. At least 60 members are expected for the Freshman class. The number may possibly reach 100. Thirty-five of these will enter from the Preparatory Department.

Scared At "Auto": George Cleveland and wife, of Straban township, while returning from Gettysburg recently, made a narrow escape from what might have proven a serious accident. Their horse became frightened at an automobile or "Hell-wagon," as they are now called in Straban township, and attempted to jump the fence when Mr. Cleveland was thrown out but held on to the lines and succeeded in stopping the horse.

They Walked Home: The Catholic picnic held at Rosevelt's Round Top, last Wednesday, was well attended notwithstanding the heavy showers of the afternoon. Unfortunately one of the trolley cars jumped the track near the wheatfield switch about 10 o'clock delaying traffic for about two hours and causing a number of picnickers to foot it from the "hill" to town. The picnic was continued Thursday evening in Xavier Hall. The proceeds amounted to $251.00.

Today's Talk

FIX IT YOURSELF

People, especially men, should be very happy if they seem to have been born mechanically inclined. It's fun in the first place, secondly it often saves money and an otherwise unhappy experience. So many of the needs for repair and fixing are simple and easily thought out.

Complicated jobs are for the expert, but there are scores presented that can easily be handled by oneself. And there is a certain thrill to doing things that have to be thought out. Tools and gadgets have always interested me. Herb Shriner, the Indiana humorist, once told me that every new gadget caught his eye, and he showed me a collection of them.

I read where a friend of the late Grantland Rice stated that Rice was afraid to turn on or off a TV set, so little did he know about things mechanical! On my summer island retreat I have bought every tool that I ever had use for, so that now I can do my ordinary repairing. I have a small carpenter shop that has almost as much interest as my small camp library!

There is an old saying that "necessity is the mother of invention," which is very true. We undoubtedly have gained many an invention through necessity, or because of an imaginative brain. Edison was one of the fastest telegraph operators of his day. He studied out a way of writing so as to give him speed. That accounts for that beautiful upright script of his so familiar to us all.

It is remarkable how so few tools can render such a variety of services, as a single hammer, saw, wrench, screw driver, plier, and perhaps a file. You can almost build a house with little more! If you have a house, you will never regret learning about the uses of a small number of tools. They will, in time, become your able assistants.

My mother used to tell me that every boy should have a trade to fall back upon in case of an emergency. I still think it is a good idea. It's a lot of fun to "fix it yourself!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Be Kind To Animals"

Just Folks

NOW AND LATER
It may be when at home are they
With all their toys
And they annoy me I shall say:
"Come! Stop that noise!"
And like as not when home they come
I'll hear the beating of a drum
And wish they weren't so troublesome.

I'm sure when they are home
once more
That it will be
The needless banging of a door
Will bother me.
And soon beyond the slightest doubt
When they are racing in and out
For peace and quiet I shall shout.

But they have been six weeks
away,
And I'm alone.
The stairway squeak by night
and day
Is all I've known.
A change of heart has come,
somehow.
The home has been so still, I vow
I'd like a little noise right now.

Lawmakers Rush Red Bans After Hasty Consideration

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, called the most deliberative body in the world, has been anything but deliberative on some major legislation just because it's in a hurry to go home this week.

The haste to get home showed up startlingly last Thursday when Sen. Butler (R-Md) came up with a bill to deprive Communist-infiltrated unions of government help or recognition.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) was one of the Senate Democrats who protested. And Humphrey suddenly produced a blockbuster, an amendment to Butler's bill which all but hid it from view.

Would Outlaw Reds

He suggested outlawing the Communist party. This was exactly what the Eisenhower administration didn't want. It had said so long ago. The government might have to spend years in legal argument for the law only to see it thrown out by the Supreme Court as unconstitutional.

It might seem a measure so far-reaching as Humphrey's would require the most careful preparation and wording by a committee and its lawyers. But no committee had prepared it. Humphrey produced it himself.

But the Senate, Democrats and Republicans alike, voted for it 85-0. It has been suggested the senators may have been aware this is an election year for many, and a politician can't be unpopular voting against communism.

House In Mood

The House was in a mood to pass it too. This is also an election year for House members. But the Eisenhower administration, worried about the damage Humphrey's proposal might cause, got busy with House leaders.

They agreed to ram through a watered-down version of the Senate bill. This was done yesterday. The House members were able to register a vote against the Communist party without outlawing it. The House measure would not make it a crime to be a Communist. It would deprive the party of any legal standing.

Back For Compromise

But the House bill kept the Senate's views on handling Communist-infiltrated unions. Last night, a few hours after House passage, Sen. Knowland (California, Sen-) ate leader of the Republicans, called it up. The bill had to go back for compromise or approval because it differed from the original Senate version.

Then Sen. Butler arose again. He wanted to make six changes in the House language on dealing with Communist-infiltrated unions. But no senator had a copy of Butler's proposals. None had been printed or mimeographed. The Senate was being asked to vote on Butler's explanation without seeing what was being voted on.

Kefauver Protest

When Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) protested that the Senate at least ought to wait till today, when everyone could see in print the House bill and Butler's proposed changes, Sen. Knowland agreed. It was to be voted on today after some hours of debate.

Meanwhile, the Senate rammed through last night an omnibus anti-subversion bill which may hold implications undreamed of by the senators who voted for it. It's a complicated bill. It provides death for peacetime spying, tightens sabotage laws and requires people trained in spying to register with the government.

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — The Sands Eddy Fire Co. No. 1 watched calmly while an ancient landmark burned to the ground.

The landmark, a pre-Civil War cotton mill, was declared an eyesore by its owners, who arranged to burn it and invited the firemen to keep the blaze under control.

EARLY SUCCESS FOR GLORIA IN STAGE CAREER

MOUNTAINHOME, Pa. (AP)—Gloria Vanderbilt Stokowski made her long-awaited stage debut here last night, overcoming an obvious early nervousness to win the cheers of a full house for her gallant portrayal of a princess in Ferend Molnar's romantic fable "The Swan."

In so doing, the tall, brunette, 30-year-old wife of conductor Leopold Stokowski and mother of two children fulfilled a driving ambition. Known chiefly in an artistic way for her painting, she had determined to find out what she could do in the theater.

As she put it before first night curtain time at the Pocono Playhouse in this eastern Pennsylvania resort country:

Good For A Beginner

"If I can't act, I want to know it—and now. But if I can act, I want to make the most of that ability, to develop another side of my career."

To this test she brought no actual acting experience other than schoolgirl parts. All the same she thought that her study of the stage and the knowledge gained from close association with many persons in the theater would help her to success.

The consensus was that the one-time "poor little rich girl"—billed simply as Gloria Vanderbilt for stage purposes—had done pretty well for a beginner.

Stokowski Not There

The final curtain touched off much applause, more than a few bravos, and sent a convoy of ushers down the aisles bearing great baskets of flowers for the star, who later admitted she had never been so scared and seldom so excited.

In the play Gloria is an aloof princess of a kingdom belonging to that faraway world of Hapsburg and Bourbons. If her performance was more a brave silhouette than a three-dimensional characterization, the audience charitably concluded that's usually what you see in a princess.

Horst Promises State GOP Strong Platform Stand On Important Campaign Issues

HARRISBURG (AP)—Members of the newly formed Republican Platform Committee went into closed sessions here today to plan a "short, unequivocal platform" for the November election campaign.

"We will present a program which will preserve Pennsylvania's progress without running our state head over heels in debt," said Miles Horst, state GOP chairman. In a pre-meeting statement on plans to elect the state GOP slate headed by Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood for governor, Horst said:

"We will advocate the continuation and expansion of those services which the people have shown they want their state government to undertake."

Appoints Chairmen

"There will be no doubt where the Republicans stand on any of the important issues of our times."

Following a meeting last night of top party leaders, Horst announced the appointment of Rep. Charles C. Smith, Philadelphia, speaker of the house, as chairman of the House Republican Legislative Campaign Committee.

At the same time Horst said he would ask Sen. M. Harvey Taylor to accept the chairmanship of the GOP Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Platform Committee

A chairman for the party's congressional campaign effort will be named later, Horst said.

Herbert P. Sorg, St. Marys, former House speaker, is chairman of the platform committee comprised of these members named last night:

Horst, Gov. John S. Fine, U. S. Sens. Edward Martin and James H. Duff, all the party's candidates for state-wide offices and these others:

Other Members

Weldon B. Heyburn, state treasurer; Charles R. Barber, state auditor general; Sen. Taylor; Smith; Speaker of the House Mrs. Sara G. Leffler, vice chairman of the GOP State Committee;

G. Mason Owlett and Mrs. D. Ray Murdoch, members of the GOP national committee; U. S. Rep. Richard W. Simpson, Huntingdon; Mrs. Katherine S. Carpenter, Jersey Shore; Mrs. Hannah M. Durham, Zionsville; Otto F. Messner, revenue secretary; J. Frank K. Boal, deputy secretary of the State Labor and Industry Department; Leo G. Knoll, Scranton; B. Culver, Laceyville; Victor Feerlan, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Isabella J. Jones, deputy secretary of the State Welfare Department; and George M. Walker, of the State

Phils Beat Brooklyn 9-6; Go To Polo Grounds Next For 3 Tilts With Loop-Leading Giants

By BEN PHLEGAR

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phils, last team outside the New York area to win a National League pennant, get a chance tonight to show whether they're playing favorites in the 1954 flag chase.

They move across the river from Ebbets Field to the Polo Grounds for the first of a three-game series with the slump-ridden New York Giants.

Last night the Phils did the Giants a big favor by thumping Brooklyn 9-6 when the Dodgers had a chance to pull within two percentage points of the lead. Instead, the Dodgers headed West to Pittsburgh trailing by a full game with 38 to play.

Wild Night For Roberts

The Giants have beaten the Phils eight out of 10 times so far and they would like to think they could resume the pleasant pastime of winning after losing seven of the last eight to other clubs. Manager Leo Durocher has picked Johnny Antonelli (17-3) to attempt to halt the skid.

The Dodgers had won 12 out of 18 from the Phils up to last night, but they couldn't keep up the pressure even though they caught Robin Roberts on what must have been one of his wildest nights in the majors.

The Philadelphia righthander walked four men in the first inning and a total of six in the game. He had walked only 33 before last night. He was charged with a wild pitch and might have been charged with several more except for some acrobatic backstopping by Smokey Burgess. And the Dodgers banged eight solid hits, two of them homers by Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges.

Braves Home Again

Despite this, Brooklyn was ahead only once and didn't have a real chance after the fifth. The pitching staff fell apart. Rookie Bob Darnell, making his first start, couldn't get anybody out in the third. Clem Labine and Preacher Roe got roughed up in the fifth when the Phils put it out of reach on six hits and an error which produced five runs.

The Milwaukee Braves, the hottest team in the league, take their nine-game winning streak into a three-game series at home against the St. Louis Cardinals. Twice before this year the Braves have won 10 in a row. They trail by 3½ after making up a dozen lengths since July 4.

Over in the American League the series to watch is at Cleveland where the Indians, winners of six in a row, play host to the Detroit Tigers. The Tigers were the last to beat them, exactly a week ago when Ned Garver shut them out on five hits.

White Sox Almost Out

Although they are well on their way to finishing with the worst average ever compiled by a fourth place team, the Tigers may yet have a lot to say about the American League pennant.

They quietly, but decisively ended the Chicago White Sox' chances with a doubleheader sweep Sunday and they have 10 games left with Cleveland, including tonight.

The White Sox still have a mathematical chance, of course, since they have 36 games to play and are 9½ behind. But it would take an unlikely collapse of both Cleveland and New York, plus a virtually unbroken winning streak of their own to put the Chicagoans back in serious contention.

A's, Orioles Don't Have Chance

Two teams have been eliminated from all pennant hope. Over the weekend the Baltimore Orioles and the Philadelphia Athletics fell more games behind the Indians than they have left to play.

While Cleveland is busy with the Tigers, the second place New York Yankees, three games back, expect to stretch their seven-game winning streak at the expense of the Athletics in a series opening tonight in Philadelphia.

The Phils-Dodgers game was the only action in the majors last night.

SAYS IT'S SURE A'S WILL STAY IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Harry Sytk appears increasingly confident his local syndicate will be successful in its bid to buy the Philadelphia Athletics American League baseball franchise.

Disclosing yesterday that the local offer for the club was 2½ million dollars, Sytk said he believed "it's a certainty the A's will remain in Philadelphia . . . and I don't know of another local offer for the club."

The drugstore chain executive again expressed skepticism of reports that Chicago businessman Arnold Johnson had offered 4½ million for the franchise. Johnson wants to move the A's to Kansas City.

To Spend Two Million

Sytk also disclosed yesterday that his group's offer included retaining Roy Mack as executive vice president of the club, and Roy's father, 91-year-old Connie, as "honorary chairman because of his many years in baseball." Roy's brother Earle would be allowed to reinvest his money as a stockholder in the new corporation along with his father and brother.

Sytk said his group plans to spend two million dollars fixing up the ball park and improving the team.

He said one reason he is so certain the club will not be moved West is Washington and Baltimore's sure opposition to such a transfer.

Eastern League

Catcher Joe Pignatano of the Elmira Pioneers apparently has broken out of a season-long batting slump—just in time for his team's final drive for the Eastern League pennant.

Pignatano belted out a bases-loaded triple, and a ninth-inning double that led to the winning run last night as the Pioneers edged visiting Schenectady, 6-5. The win moved first-place Elmira two games ahead of idle Wilkes-Barre.

Williamsport scored four unearned runs in the seventh inning to down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-2, in an exhibition. Allentown was rained out at Reading in the only other scheduled contest.

Hounds Prove To Be Stool Pigeons

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—A couple of man's best friends are stool pigeons, from their boss's point of view. Game ranger Milton Stalcup reports that he was tracking down a game violator and lost the trail when two hounds came joyfully out of a hiding place in the grass to greet him. Eagerly the dogs led him into the prairie grass to greet his master in his hiding place.

SARASOTA, Fla. (P)—When talking about lengthy golf clubs, Elmer W. (Pop) Harbert, golf pro and father of Detroit pro Chick Harbert, recalls the long clubs he once made for President Taft.

"The driver and brassie both were 54 inches," says Pop. "The spoon was 53 inches and the driving iron was 49 inches. These were the other lengths: midiron 48, mashie iron 47, mashie 46, mashie niblick 45, niblick 44 and putter 43. We had to splice all the wood shafts and all the iron heads were hand-forged in a blacksmith shop."

Teams Meet On Wednesday

Rain Monday night washed out the scheduled second game between the Elks and Texas Lunch in the community softball loop.

League officials said the next game will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock on the Recreation Field. Plans also call for contests Thursday and Friday night.

The Elks are leading 1 to 0 in the five game series to determine the championship of the loop.

6 TEAMS CHOSEN FOR JR. LEGION TOURNAMENT

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Six teams have been chosen to compete in the 1954 Pennsylvania American Legion Junior Baseball Tournament and 12 others are contending for the remaining six district berths.

State Activities Director George Bellis listed the early qualifiers yesterday as Cahill-Cholartan Post of Philadelphia, Souderton, Coplay, Nazareth, Milroy and Philipsburg.

He said that he expected the remaining teams to be chosen by tomorrow night. The tournament runs Aug. 25-29.

Finals In Allentown

They will come from among Valley View and Jim Thorpe in the Schuylkill-Lehigh-Carbon district; Quarryville and Jonestown in the South-central district; Lock Haven and Towanda in the Northeastern district; Marianna and Vandergrift in the Southwestern district; West Castle and West Deer Twp. in the Allegheny-Beaver-Butler-Lawrence district; and Waterford and Weedville in the Northwestern district.

The preliminary rounds of the double elimination tournament will be held in Allentown, Bethlehem, Coplay, Catasauqua and Emmaus. The semifinals and finals will be held in Allentown Aug. 28 and 29.

The East-West All-Star game will be held Sunday in Lancaster.

190 IN JAYCEE GOLF TOURNNEY

ALBUQUERQUE (P)—Par 72 on the University of New Mexico's tough course was the goal of 190 teen-aged youngsters today as they teed off in the second round of the 36-hole qualifying test for the annual International Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament.

The 7,250-yard course, with its san traps, hills and tricky fairways proved too much for all but two of the young golfers as qualifying play began yesterday.

The two who beat the course were Davis Adams of Macon, Ga., home state of two of the previous winners, and Gerald Goring of Honolulu, Hawaii. Each had a one-under-par 71.

Adams had a 37-34 for his total, Goring 36-35. Each had a two-stroke bulge going into today's second round.

The top 100 and ties will enter the 72-hole medal play tournament, which starts tomorrow. Those failing to qualify will be eligible to enter a Class B tourney.

New Coach Has Big Gridiron Job Cut Out At Littlestown

As a member of the U. S. Marine Corps, Wilbur J. Gobrecht, Littlestown High School's new football coach, learned the virtues of perseverance.

As a rookie mentor who has inherited a team which in 1953 won only one game and, since, has lost three-quarters of its starting backfield through graduation, Gobrecht may find his powers of perseverance tested to the limit.

The 23-year-old former Hanover High School and Dickinson College backfield star Monday officially assumed command as head Thunderbolt grid coach. He succeeds Clayton Evans who was elevated to Littlestown athletic director.

Start Training Monday

Gobrecht, after a conference with Littlestown's supervising principal, Paul E. King, announced that training camp sessions will start Monday, August 23. Practice on the high school field will be called twice daily, from 9 to 11 a.m. and again from 2 to 4 p.m.

Equipment will be furnished Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock to Juniors and Seniors, and on Thursday to the remainder of those reporting to practice. Physical examinations will be given Thursday at 11 a.m. for boys in the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. Others will be examined Monday morning prior to the initial rehearsal.

The 'Bolts 1954 schedule lists seven opponents with the lone newcomer being the Carson Long Military School. Littlestown gridgers will swing into action September 18 at West York and conclude, as in 1953, against Delone on friendly terrain, November 12.

Remainder of the schedule follows: September 24, Susquehanna, at home; October 8, Dalls-town, at home; October 16, Bigler-ville, away; October 23, Kennard Dale, away, and November 6, Carson Long, away.

16 Holdover Gridders

Sixteen members from last year's team which won one (Susquehanna), tied one (Biglerville), and lost six will receive first crack at the starting eleven positions. Indications point to a large freshman class turnout, some of whom may bear watching.

Gobrecht, a Hanover resident, and Morris Bream, assistant coach, will find the backfield returnees paced by Donald Kump, promising Senior fullback, and George Snyder, quarterback candidate. Also back is James Kress, a Sophomore halfback, and James Zulek, Junior class halfback.

Returning ends include: Jay Showmaker, Dean Selby, Fred Bushey, and Leo Harper. James Selman, two-year veteran and only a Junior, will be back at center.

While at the guards are Robert Orndorff, Thomas Gouker, Allen King, Kenneth Koonitz and Albert Snyder. At the tackles are veterans David Bucher and Terry Brown.

To Use Single Wing

Lost through graduation were backs Dean Sell, Elvin Chronister and Charles Hall; tackles, Thomas Orndorff and John Todt and guard, Jack Bowers.

Until he discovers or can train an outstanding passer, Gobrecht revealed he will concentrate on teaching his pupils the fundamentals of the single wing—capitalizing on deception, quick openers, spinners and weak side charges. Evans last year operated out of a T-formation and double-wing.

Because of the soaking rain Monday night, the South Penn Baseball League games scheduled to have been played tonight have been postponed until Tuesday, August 24.

League officials said that there was a possibility that the diamonds in some communities would not be dry until tonight and a conference with officials of the umpire group indicated that August 24 would be a preferable date.

As a result, the games originally scheduled for last Sunday, which were postponed until tonight because of Sunday's inclement weather, have again been postponed until next Tuesday.

The regularly scheduled games for this Sunday will be played as scheduled.

BISHOP PETER SAYS CHURCHES MUST NOT BOW TO GOVERNMENT

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—A bishop from Communist Hungary declared today churches must not bow to any governmental system but should stand more resolutely as free instruments of God.

"In the face of all opposing views either within or outside the church we proclaim this freedom of the church's way," Bishop John Peter told World Christian leaders.

He was the first delegate from behind the Iron Curtain on the program of the global assembly here of the World Council of Churches and the most controversial figure among them.

Stresses Independence
In a prepared speech brimming with Scripture quotations he asserted that the church is not bound up with any social system but serves independently its Lord on the road of human history.

He said: "I believe that not only in our country but everywhere in the world where there are Christians the churches ought to voice this independence of the church of all social systems more courageously and more resolutely than heretofore."

There are 20 representatives from Communist lands among 1,500 churchmen from 48 nations participating in the assembly. Their presence has been assailed by some outside groups, and Bishop Peter's role particularly has been questioned.

Portuguese Troops Hold Goa Fortress

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Portuguese troops were reported in full possession today of Goa's Tiracol fortress after a show of force dislodged the band of pro-Indian demonstrators who occupied the bastion Sunday.

Reports published in New Delhi newspapers made no mention of any casualties in the recapture of the fort yesterday but a report received in Bombay said one of the demonstrators was killed and another wounded.

The band of Goan nationalists had occupied the fort on Goa's northern frontier early Sunday after eight Portuguese police garrisoning it fled. Capture of Tiracol was the nationalists' only success in their widely publicized "liberation march" which fizzled down to only a token invasion of the Portuguese-Indian territories claimed by India.

MEDICAL HEADS LAUD CITIZEN HEALTH WORK

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)—The president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society today called for continued co-operation between the medical profession and state public health workers.

"Continued co-operation of the medical profession with the public health workers of the state will, in the near future, result in the best public health program the state of Pennsylvania has ever had," said Dr. James L. Whitehill in a speech prepared for delivery at the 3rd annual Health Conference here.

The society head addressed some 1,200 public health workers attending the conference at Pennsylvania State University.

Milestone in Public Health
"The members of our association represent, perhaps, the more scientific approach to the problems which confront us in public health and private practice," he said, adding:

"The major portion of our time is spent on the curative rather than the preventative, dealing with all phases of surgery. You who him permission to attend a world Presbyterian meeting in Princeton, N.J. two weeks ago but issued a visa restricting his trip to World Council activities.

Asked about rumors the bishop was a member of the Hungarian secret police, a State Department spokesman said at the time that information indicated Peter's visit should be limited.

However, a World Council leader, Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, told newsmen there are no wraps on any delegates—Peter included—so far as what they do or say at the assembly.

In another prepared address, Dr. Harry S. Mustard, executive director of the State Charities Aid Assn., New York, said the active participation of lay citizens in the health movement in Pennsylvania is a milestone in public health.

"Never before have these citizens, individually and in groups, given so much thought and support to this phase of human well being," Mustard said.

The conference sessions opened with an address of welcome by Dr. Russell E. Teague, state health secretary. Addresses and discussion periods will be held during the four-day program which closes Thursday.

HOUSE-PASSED ANTI-RED BILL WILL GET OKAY

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—A House-passed bill to outlaw the Communist party and strip all legal protection from Communist-dominated unions was ticketed today for Senate passage with possibly half a dozen changes, most of them described as minor.

The measure, speedily passed by GOP leaders had conferred with President Eisenhower, came up for debate in the Senate late last night with every prospect of quick approval.

But a stumbling block came into view when Sen. Butler (R-Md.), author of the part of the legislation forbidding Red-dominated unions the facilities of the National Labor Relations Board, offered six amendments to that section he described as "technical."

Senators Humphrey (D-Minn), Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Lehman (D-Lib-NY) questioned that amendments made important changes and demanded that they be produced for study.

The President's antisubversive program went smoothly forward yesterday on another front when the Senate passed after brief debate a three-cornered measure, in slightly different form than a similar House bill, and sent it back to the House for anticipated quick approval.

This bill, third in the arsenal of new antisubversion weapons asked by Eisenhower and passed in varying forms by both houses, is designed (1) to tighten and modernize present laws against sabotage, (2) provide a death penalty for peacetime espionage and (3) require registration of all persons trained in espionage or sabotage by a foreign government or foreign political party.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police are looking for an angler with a new angle.

Officials of the suburban Northwest National Bank reported they found a fishing line with two three-pronged fish hooks and four regular hooks in the chute of the night depository.

The would-be angler had lowered the hooks down the chute but they became snarled and lodged inside the depository.

the European Defense Community plan, proposed by French Premier Pierre Mendes-France, were far too drastic to be accepted by the other countries involved.

And they foresaw little or no chance that the other proposed European army partners—West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—could find any formula for reconciling their own views with the new French attitude.

To Meet In Brussels
Foreign ministers of the six nations are to meet in Brussels Thursday to discuss the problem.

All participants except France and Italy have ratified the treaty.

The Mendes-France amendments among other things, would allow any member to withdraw from EDC if American and British troops were pulled out of Europe, would make the EDC treaty's length the same as that of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forbid the stationing of German troops on French soil and withhold final French ratification pending a new try at settlement with Russia over Germany.

SENATE PASSES COMPROMISE ON ATOMIC BILL

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to revamp the nation's eight-year-old atomic energy law was before the House today for a possible final vote after the Senate had passed swiftly a fresh compromise resolving the key atomic patents issue.

In a marked change of pace from its earlier handling of the atomic bill, the Senate last night accepted with hardly a flurry a new agreement worked out by a Senate-House conference committee in just a few hours. The roll call vote was 59-17.

The Senate-passed compromise would continue government control of most atomic patents for the next five years. It also would open the way for private development of atomic patents after that time.

in most respects—would authorize limited exchange of atomic information with U.S. allies and would permit entry of private industry into the atomic field.

The measure had loomed as a possible major obstacle to hopes for adjournment of Congress this week.

Up to last night, the snag on which the bill had stuck in the Senate had been the question of patents on civilian atomic developments.

The first time the bill was considered by the Senate last month, it took 13 days of debate—including several round-the-clock sessions—to finish the job.

THE GROWING TREND TO LINCOLN

Smart to look at—but wait till you drive it!

Looking at a Lincoln is like looking at a beautiful, ground-hugging contemporary home. They both say—at a glance—here's style, clean modern design, comfort.

But to know Lincoln, you must live with it. All the words in the dictionary cannot reveal Lincoln in action.

So we invite you to drive this fine car.

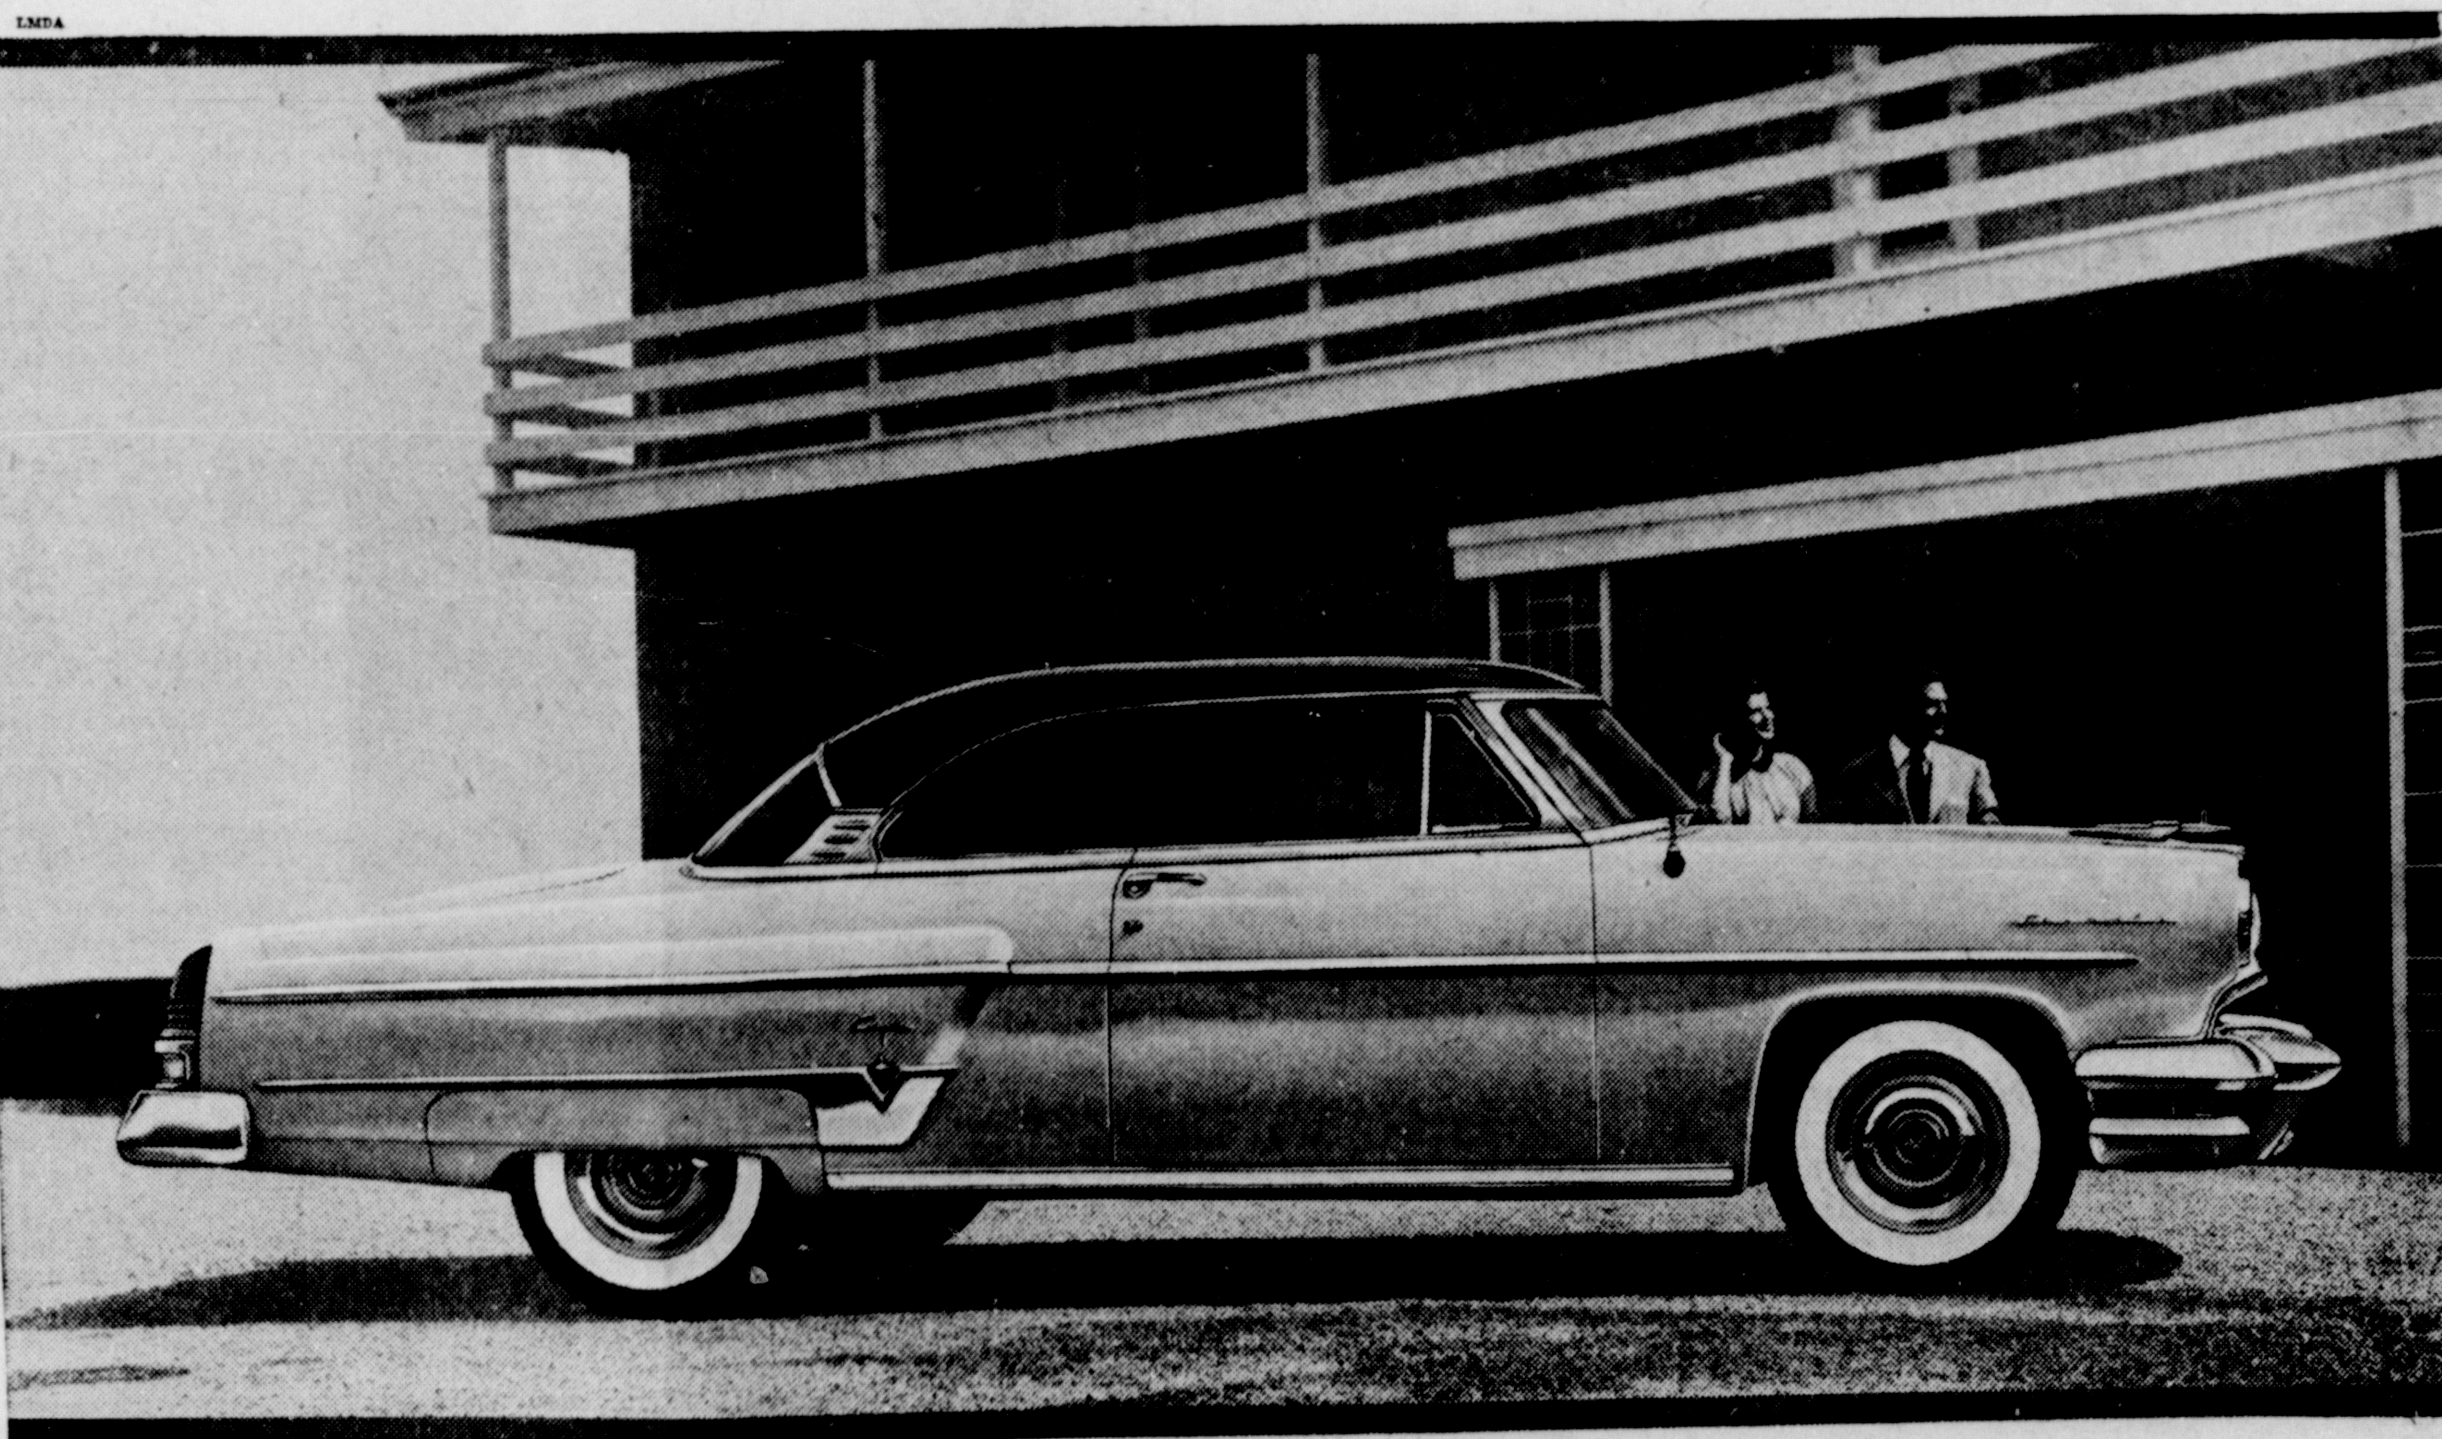

We hand you the keys. You slide into that (optional) 4-way power seat and adjust it exactly to your liking. Then you head, easily, quietly out into traffic and onto the open highway.

You'll notice mighty yet gentle power. You cruise as you will.

Nudge the pedal. Surge ahead. You're alone—in front of the traffic. And you're always in relaxed yet complete control.

"This is a different kind of ride," we predict you will say. And if you're of an engineering mind you'll know the reasons: ball-joint front wheel suspension (only this fine car has it), the new 4-barrel carburetor, the new automatic spark control, the precision balanced chassis, and the largest braking area in the field! Plus all the optional power features that make driving almost effortless—power steering, and power brakes, for example.

We have a Lincoln or Lincoln Capri waiting for you.

Mitchell Accuses Ike Of Giving Big Contract To Syndicate Of 'Close Friend'

CHICAGO (AP)—The Democratic national chairman says President Eisenhower personally ordered the award of a contract to a syndicate in which one of the President's "closest friends" has an interest.

Stephen A. Mitchell, in a debate yesterday with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, asserted the President issued a personal order on awarding the contract to supply electricity to an atomic installation despite protests of both the Atomic Energy Commission and the TVA, and without competitive bidding.

Hall in his turn in the debate said he believed "that the American people will rise up and condemn such an unwarranted attack."

Probe Blocked

In Washington James C. Hager, White House press secretary, said he had no comment on Mitchell's allegation.

Mitchell, in the debate before a session of the American Bar Assn's annual meeting, said the Senate subcommittee on monopoly asked for funds to investigate the situation but that "the Republican leadership through Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) bottled up the request so they can't get a dime."

He said the contract involved was for providing electrical power for the atomic energy plant at Paducah, Ky., and was 90 million dollars higher than that offered by a rival syndicate and was 140 million dollars more than the TVA would require to supply the power.

Denied By Jones

He did not mention the name of the person he described as one of the President's "closest friends" but his office said later he referred to golfer Bobby Jones.

In Atlanta, Jones said Mitchell's remarks are "utterly ridiculous and without foundation."

He said he would be surprised if the President even knew he was a director of the Southern Co. "because he and I never had any conversations about that fact."

Reactions Differ

Mitchell mentioned the matter

after Hall had challenged him to cite any "corruption" in the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said Mitchell's charge "carried guilt by association too far" in intimating Eisenhower was influenced by friendship for Jones.

But Kefauver's colleague, Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) said if a Democratic Senate is elected this fall, he will press for a probe of the contract matter.

Party Divided On Policy

Kefauver's and Gore's opinions pointed out an apparent division among Democrats as to the wisdom of directly attacking Eisenhower in the coming campaign season.

Another senator who asked to remain anonymous said criticism similar to Mitchell's had been included in a speech a Democratic senator planned to make during the Senate battle over the atomic energy bill, but was stricken out on the advice of other party members.

Kefauver said in an interview that while he believes Eisenhower was "dead wrong" about the power contract, he does not subscribe to Mitchell's implications. Kefauver and Gore have championed the TVA.

CONGRESS IN FINAL WEEK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Majority leader Knowland of California said Monday this is adjournment week for Congress, barring "unexpected snags."

But he added he is not yet ready to take the "maybe" out of adjournment prospects "until we clear a number of priority items"—among them the atomic energy bill, farm legislation and a two billion dollar money bill which are still in dispute between Senate and House.

LABOR PICTURE IS DARKENED BY U.S. STRIKE WAVE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Strikes against the country's biggest air line and the rubber industry continued without sign of letup today.

Negotiations are in progress in Cleveland, Cincinnati and New York in efforts to settle disputes against rubber's "Big Four," two of which—Goodyear and Firestone—are crippled by strikes. Talks continue meantime at U.S. Rubber and B. F. Goodrich, where employees continue to work although contracts have expired.

Firestone and Goodyear have offered 5-cent hourly pay hikes, which the CIO Rubber Workers have rejected.

Nation's Oldest Strike

Probably the country's oldest strike of any magnitude is in Sheboygan, Wis. There two thousand Kohler Co. production workers voted Sunday to continue their 19-week-old walkout.

The plumbing supply firm refused last Friday to grant a 15-cent hourly wage boost to skilled men, and 10 cents to other production workers.

Layoffs hit 1,891 American Air Line employees today in the two-week-old strike of 1,200 pilots. If the walkout continues two more weeks, an additional 12,000 workers face the prospect of no jobs.

Little Settlement Chance

A spokesman for the AFL Air Line Pilots Assn., said there appeared to be little chance of a settlement. American's planes have been grounded in a dispute over pilot flight time on the carrier's nonstop transcontinental hops.

Terre Haute, Ind., was crowded Monday with visitors for the Vigo County Fair, but there was no transportation. Sixty members of the AFL Motor Coach Employees Union stopped work at midnight after the bus company insisted on a pay cut instead of a raise.

There was at least one settlement in the labor picture.

In New York, the American Safety Razor Corp. announced an agreement with the United Electrical Workers (Ind.). The effect of the agreement is that the company won't move to Staunton, Va., until next May, as originally planned. It had threatened to move immediately if no contract was reached. The company also agreed to a 5-cent hourly pay increase.

chusetts told newsmen he is also hoping for adjournment Friday or Saturday, "but there is a good possibility it will not be until next week."

Both Knowland and Martin voiced their cautious hopes for quitting this week after meeting with President Eisenhower at the weekly White House conference for congressional leaders.

The House is taking its adjournment cues from the Senate. The 435 member House has been ready to knock off work for some time. Operating under tight debate curbs, it has completed its essential legislative program about twice as fast as the Senate.

WARRENSBURG, Ill. (AP)—Residents of this tiny hamlet and nearby Dawson received the scare of their lives when a new gas turbine locomotive and a big wind and thunder storm passed through at the same time. It was the first appearance here of the new type locomotive making an unusual noise caused by its huge turbine rotating at some 7,000 revolutions per minute.

GOVERNOR LAUDS STATE GUARD AT INDIANTOWN GAP

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., (AP)—Some 11,000 members of the 28th Infantry Division of the Pennsylvania National Guard and other non-divisional units Monday launched a two-week summer encampment here with a tactical training period.

The more than 1,000 officers of the two units which began the encampment Saturday were praised on Sunday by Gov. John S. Fine for their "constant state of readiness."

"Your contribution to the Pennsylvania military establishment has always been most outstanding. Your constant state of readiness has provided the people of this commonwealth with an organization of seasoned troops as their internal security force for which its citizenry are justly proud," Fine told the officers.

He told the 28th Division leaders "we are happy to see this great division, reactivated and reorganized in such a short time, coming to the summer encampment with a strength of over 5,000 officers and enlisted men."

Others In Camp

The division has not camped at the military reservation here since before being called into federal service in 1950. It was listed as a PNG unit once again last year.

An additional 2,000 guardsmen of the PNG's 51st Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade with headquarters at Allentown began their encampment

Another 1,800 PNG airmen of Headquarters, 112th Fighter-Bomber Wing, and the 553rd Air Force Band based at Harrisburg State Airport and group and squadron units from Greater Pittsburgh Airport and Reading, are encamped at Spaatz Field, Reading.

Another contingent of the Air Guard, the 271st Communications Sqdn. (operations) from New Cumberland, is training at Stewart Air Force Base, New York.

Lt. Gen. Frank A. Weber, commanding general of the PNG and adjutant general of Pennsylvania, told the officers "your arrival at Indiantown Gap Saturday by train, bus and motor convoy from your home town armories was a superb operation and I commend you all for a job well done."

Also on hand with Fine and Gen. Weber were Maj. Gen. Henry K. Fluck, commanding general of the 28th Division, and Brig. Gen. William S. Bailey, 28th Division Artillery commander.

Col. Arthur D. Kemp, Yeoman, 11th regimental combat team commander, addressed non-divisional officers and introduced their commanding officers.

STORE POLICY RAISES WORKERS THROUGH RANKS

The "American Dream"—when office boys become managers and stock boys grow into presidents—can still be realized in spite of what cynics say. The evidence can be found in one of the nation's large retail chains.

More than 90 percent of the executive personnel of the W. T. Grant Company can look back to humble beginnings. Edward Staley, president of the national chain, achieved his position by working up through the ranks in the store management training program offered by the Company to young men and women. However, his case is really not unique in the Grant Company; the five presidents who preceded him also started as trainees.

"The Grant Company realizes that its major strength is its personnel," said Mr. Staley. "Our policy is to insure progressiveness and aggressiveness through maintaining a basic reservoir of ambitious young people."

Room-At-The-Top

To insure "room at the top" for men and women in the program, Grants maintains a policy of automatically retiring executive personnel at 60 years of age under its liberal Employees' Retirement Plan. For this reason, the Company has always enjoyed enthusiastic leadership and maintained a progressive point of view. Men and women in the training program are obtained through college interviews, local stores, personal and employment agency recommendations. The primary qualities necessary for the trainee are character, leadership, and industry—whether evidenced in acquiring an education or in previous business experience.

Successful applicants spend one month in a training store to prepare them for their first "permanent" store assignments. In five years, a man will have been transferred to a different store on an average of once every eight months. These moves, which may take the trainee to all parts of the country, give him an overall view of Grants merchandising methods and of the needs of Grant customers.

It is a company policy not only to watch its employees for potential executive ability, but also to tell the employees what it sees. Rating sheets on trainees are filled out every six months. The immediate superior talks with the employee about the rating and shows it to him. "We feel this gives the man or woman concerned a greater chance for self-improvement," Staley said.

Women's Role

Not only do store managers, regional and district supervisors, and top New York executives come from this training program, but also merchandising managers and buyers. Women, too, play a great part in the operation of the Grant Company. More than 40 women who once were salespeople now manage Grant stores throughout the country; in the New York buying office, 19 of the Company's buyers began as secretaries and clerks in that office.

"People who merit advancement can't be held back," said Staley. "One of our aims in business is to recognize ambition and talent not just with a pat on the back, but with advancement which brings with it additional responsibility and monetary benefit."

pin will be Edward C. Freed, who joined the hospital staff in 1954, and who could not be present for Monday afternoon's presentation.

Her Second Party

Freed started out with the title of janitor at the hospital, but his duties soon included those of orderly and "general man about the hospital."

In addition to the birthday party and the pin presentation Mrs. Mishler was also presented with a gift of $40 from the medical staff and others. The office force presented her with a bird cage—filled with flowers, and the hospital auxiliary also presented her with flowers.

The affair was the second 90th birthday party for Mrs. Mishler. An earlier party was held for her at Pittsburgh on the birthday by Mr. and Mrs. Long.

Other Pins Presented

Mrs. Thomas McSherry was presented with a 25-year pin at Monday's ceremony. She became a member of the staff in 1929. Ten-year pins were presented to Miss Rachel Everhart, Mrs. Raymond Bishington and Mrs. Arthur Jones.

Pins denoting five years service were presented to Miss Jane Stallsmith, Mrs. Michael Tate, Mrs. Alvin Groff, Miss Mary Roddy, Mrs. Francis Yingling, Mrs. Nellie Smith, Miss Wynona Woodward, Mrs. Richard C. Tawney, Mrs. Josephine Delp, Miss Mabelle Ridinger and Oleksa Barikiv.

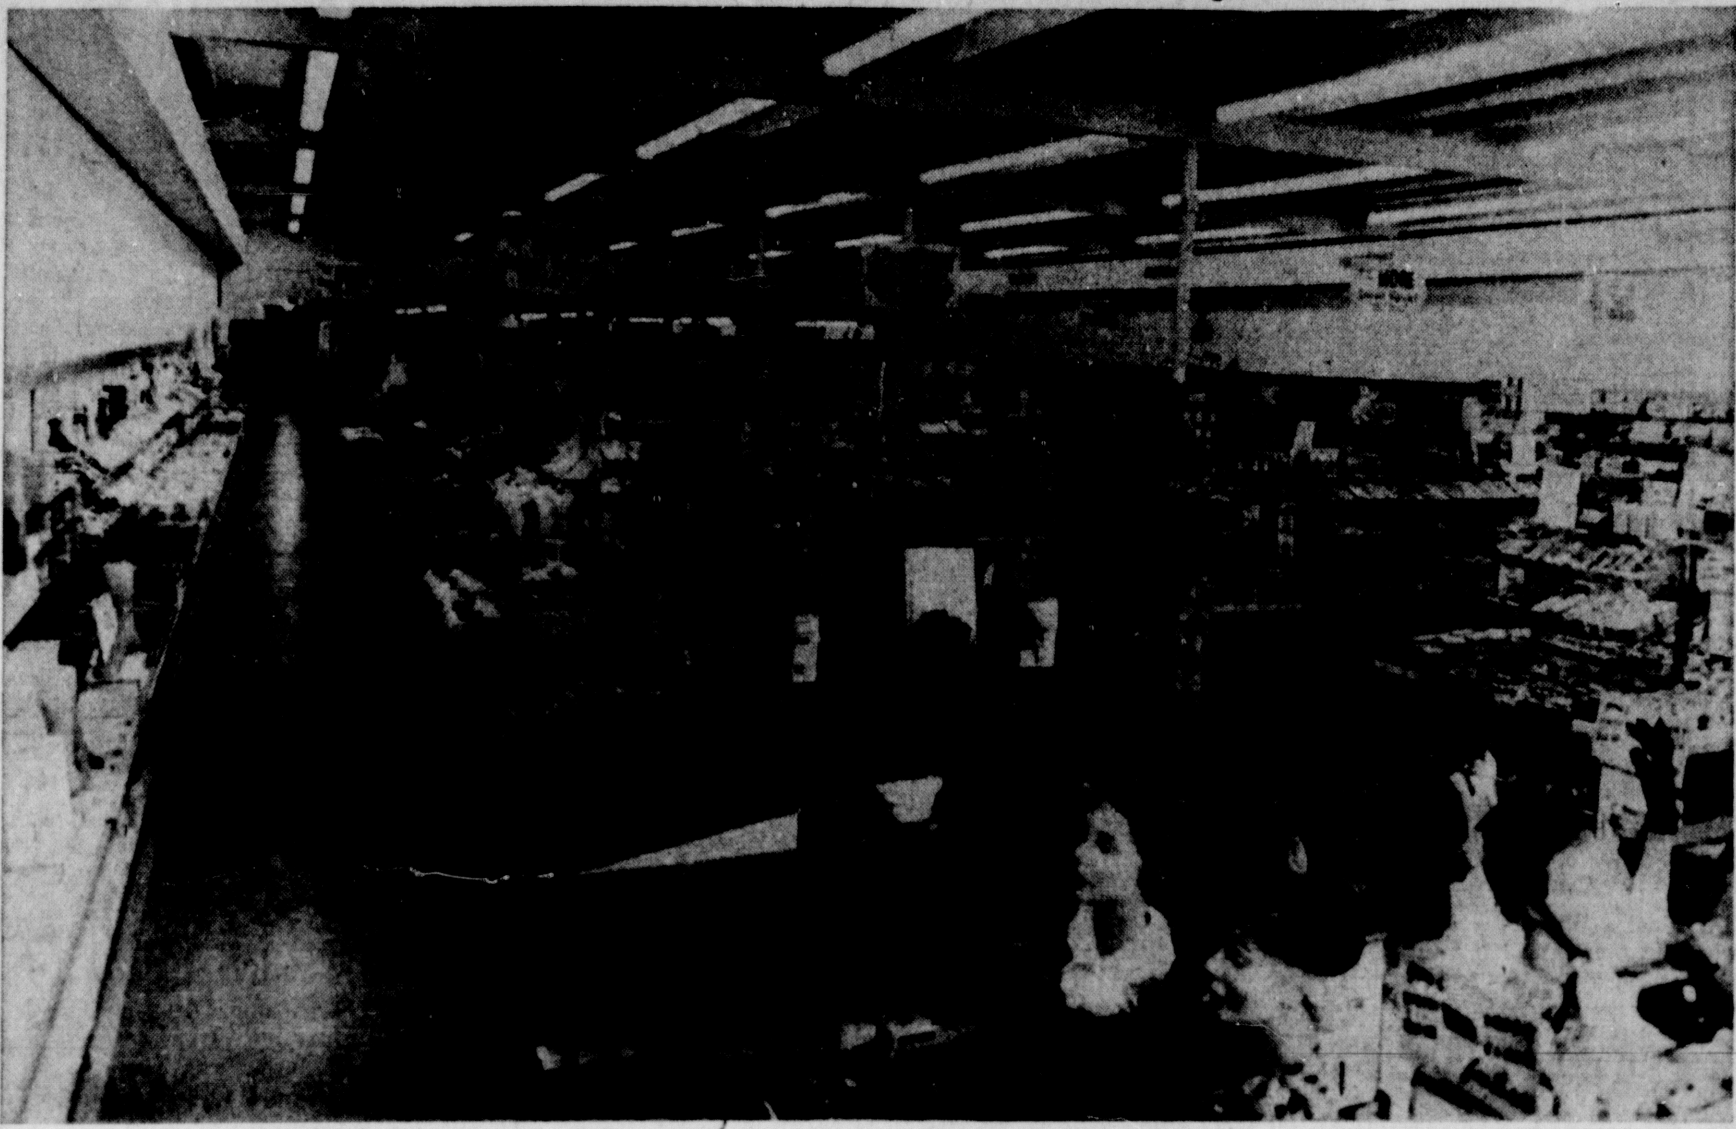

INVOLVED IN 2ND OFFENSE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police Chief A. G. Strepper of suburban Abington Twp. said yesterday that one of three men who robbed the Andrews Air Force Base bank near Baltimore is the man who attempted to rob the Abington Bank and Trust Co. July 12.

Strepper identified the man as Earl (Kili) Smith, 25, of the Bronx, N. Y. Smith is still at large.

One of the three involved in the $160,000 holdup at Andrews was captured. He reportedly told the FBI that Smith was one of his accomplices.

STATE GUARD SHARPENS AIMS ON FIRING RANGE

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP)—Members of Pennsylvania's 28th National Guard Infantry Division and non-divisional units today sharpened their aims on the firing ranges at the military installation here.

Some 12,000 officers and men of the PNG are encamped at the base for two weeks summer training which began last Saturday.

The troops, officers and enlisted men alike, took turns by squads lining up on the firing lines and practicing marksmanship with small arms and machine guns.

Lt. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general and PNG commanding general, said the intensive training will continue during the next 10 days.

Many of the citizen soldiers are veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict. The 28th Division returned to state control last year after occupation duty in Germany. This is the first time since 1950 that they have trained at the base.

Meanwhile, summer training for other PNG units was under way at three other bases.

The NG Air National Guard is training at Spaatz Field, Reading; the 51st Antiaircraft Artillery Brigade at Fort Miles and Bethany Beach, Del., and the 271st Communications Squadron at Stewart Air Force Base, New York.

DIVERT CREEK THRU TUNNEL

EMPORIUM, Pa. (AP)—Thousands of gallons of water today was diverted through a huge tunnel for flood control along the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek near this Cameron County community.

Gov. John S. Fine dedicated the tunnel yesterday and set off a charge of dynamite that opened the channel to divert the creek.

The diversion of the water allows workmen to close a gap in a flood control dam on one of the main tributaries of the West Branch of the Susquehanna River.

"It makes me very happy to set off an explosion for construction of a public project and not an explosion for destruction as is reflected in world affairs today," Fine said.

The tunnel is driven through solid rock at the site of the proposed dam. The 1,200 foot tube drains water from the creek now damed up by a coffer dam.

The tunnel joins the creek on the other side of the mountain through which it runs.

Fine also cut a ribbon officially opening a seven-mile stretch of highway built near the dam site in connection with the project.

The Sinnemahoning Dam is one of four planned for the West Branch of the Susquehanna for flood control.

CONDEMNED MAN APPEALS

QUEBEC (AP)—Wilbert Coffin has filed a request to appeal his conviction for the murder of Richard Lindsey, 17-year-old Hollidaysburg, Pa., hunter, whose remains were found last summer in the wilderness of the Gaspé Peninsula.

Coffin contended yesterday through counsel in the Quebec Court of Appeals that there was not sufficient evidence to establish his guilt. He also listed seven points of law in his request which will be presented when the Appeals Court sits for its fall session.

Among the 43-year-old prospect's contentions was that Justice Gerard Lacroix failed to give the jury adequate instructions on the meaning of reasonable doubt.

Coffin was convicted Aug. 5 in Perce, Que.

He was tried only for the murder of Lindsey, whose body was found with that of his father, Eugene, 47, and another hunting companion, Albert Claar, 20, also of Hollidaysburg.

U.N. Command Demands Reds Account For 526 Americans

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The U.N. Command today demanded an accounting of 2,840 missing Allied soldiers—including 526 Americans—named on a "newly revised list" of men the Reds are accused of holding prisoner.

Rear Adm. T. B. Brittain told the Communists the U.N. wants to know when the men will be freed if they are alive and when their bodies will be returned if they are dead.

The new list, given the Communists at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission, carries the names of 526 Americans, 50 from other U.N. nations and 2,264 South Koreans.

Men Held in China

It includes men whom the Reds have admitted holding in China.

The Reds insist that all Allied war prisoners who wanted to return home were repatriated last year.

All of the small group of captives in China are believed to be airmen who drifted down in Manchuria after their planes were crippled in air battles just south of the border. The Reds contend they are not war prisoners.

Revised List

Brittain said the revised list carries the names of POWs "we are convinced were in your hands and whom we still consider as not having been accounted for in a satisfactory manner."

Brittain said he asked Communists Gen. Lee Sang Cho to tell the U.N. Command where the prisoners are being held and when they will be released if they are still alive.

If they are dead, the U.N. delegate asked the Communists to give the cause of death, place of burial and when their remains will be returned.

Discovered at Geneva

"During the recent negotiations at Geneva, it was developed that certain of the prisoners are being held in China," Brittain declared.

Brittain added, "the families of the personnel in this unaccounted for category are anxious to reach an early and satisfactory settlement of this entire problem."

The new prisoner list deleted from the earlier list names of 418 Americans, one British soldier and 146 South Koreans.

The unaccounted for United Nations soldiers included 19 British, nine Australians, four Canadians, eight South Africans, one Greek, four Turks, two Colombians and three men from Belgium and Luxembourg.

STARTS LIFE TERM

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gayton Ellingwood, 65, today began a life sentence in prison for the slaying of his wife in 1953.

Ellingwood was sentenced yesterday in Dauphin County Court by Judge Homer L. Kreider. He was found guilty of first degree murder in the strangulation death of his 68-year-old wife in their Harrisburg home.

A motion for a new trial was filed last June 28 but was later withdrawn.

DENT RAPS GOP REPORT STAND AS WHITEWASH

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. John H. Dent, suggested today that Miles Horst, state Republican chairman, visit and study economic conditions in Pennsylvania's "distressed coal fields and steel towns."

"He should talk to the small business man, merchant and professional man and he'd discover that times are indeed tough, notwithstanding optimistic, politically-inspired White House pronouncements that the recession is over," Dent, Senate Democratic leader, said in a statement.

"The thousands of men out of work in Pennsylvania, whose families are suffering while Mr. Horst talks blandly of broad gains under Republican leadership, are not likely to cheer his phony progress report or be taken in by the presidential whitewash of true conditions."

Democratic Approach Sound

At the same time, Dent declared that the Democratic party has offered a "sound, logical approach to solution of Pennsylvania's complicated tax problems."

"Our plan is to revamp the entire tax structure in a serious effort to get down to bedrock economy in the management of our government and pave the way for abolishment of unnecessary taxes, including the unpopular sales tax."

"True, we have to take in something, but it shouldn't be more than we actually need," he added.

GOP To Tax

Republicans rather than Democrats, he said, are contemplating new state taxes.

The Democratic party is not eyeing new taxes, but ways of eliminating old ones levied by wastrel planners of the discredited Republican administration.

Rep. H. G. Andres, Cambria County, Democratic House minority leader, promised the financial system of the state government will be revised if the Democrats win the November election.

Spoke On TV

Speaking over television station WTPA last night, Andrews said the first major project of the Democrats if elected would be to change the financial system and install a modern accounting method in the commonwealth.

He estimated that with "efficient" accounting and governmental economies, "at least 125 million dollars could be picked up in a two-year fiscal period by the state government."

"We (the Democratic party) think tax dodging is very considerable in Pennsylvania," he said. "We'll audit tax settlements made for the last five years."

murder in the strangulation death of his 68-year-old wife in their Harrisburg home.

A motion for a new trial was filed last June 28 but was later withdrawn.

500 Forest Fires A Day

This was our average in the U.S. during 1953. It represents one of America's most shameful wastes, for 9 out of 10 of these fires which burn over 20,000,000 acres were caused by carelessness. They were caused by everyday people who were thoughtless with cigarettes, matches, campfires, etc. These unnecessary fires destroy timber that could have built homes and furniture, watersheds that could have produced water for our homes and industry, recreation areas that could have meant relaxation and fun for many, many people. Yes, forest fires are our most shameful waste. The next time you are in or near the woods don't forget Smokey's warning—"Remember Only You Can Prevent Forest Fires."

L. G. HAWORTH DIES

EASTHAM, Mass. (AP)—Lester G. Haworth, 66, vice president of Haverford College and an executive of the international and national YMCA died Sunday at his summer home here.

He became vice president of Haverford College, a Quaker institution in Haverford, Pa., in 1948. He was also active in Quaker affairs as a member of the executive board of the American Friends Service Committee and on the executive committee of the Friends' World Committee.

WINDS CAUSE DAMAGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—Several utility poles and some trees and television aerials were torn down by high winds that ripped through the Harrisburg area last night. No one was injured.

Lightning struck and set fire to a hay storage shed on the farm of A. Horner, Carlisle R. D. 2. The hay and barn were destroyed.

Wind tore up a section of roof on the Green Hosiery Mills plant near Millroy, Mifflin County, causing an estimated $4,000 damages.

Fish in the Columbia River are tested periodically for possible radioactivity which might be derived from the Hanford Atomic operation.

Company Transfers Plant To Reading

READING, Pa. (AP)—The Bowers Battery and Spark Plug Co., Inc., has announced that it is transferring an Oregon affiliate to a new location near the parent plant outside Reading.

Clarence P. Bowers, company president, said yesterday the new plant will serve as a research and development center for a new type nickelcadmium battery contemplated for manufacture in the American market. He said the plant is expected to employ several hundred persons.

The Oregon firm, Pacific Wood Products Co., Inc., has been affiliated with Bowers since 1938. The plant was located at Grant's Pass and at the height of its operations employed 150 persons. It was closed two years ago.

Bowers said no personnel are involved in the transfer to Pennsylvania.

PA. DEMOCRATS ARE PREPARING FALL PLATFORM

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's Democrats lent an ear today to suggestions from groups interested in placing planks in the election platform the party hopes will unseat the Republicans in November.

The vanguard of two dozen organizations announcing they will appear turned up at today's open session. The public hearings for which a "come one, come all" sign was run up, continues through tomorrow.

Former U.S. Sen. Francis J. Myers will preside at the hearings to gather material for the platform supporting State Sen. George M. Leader for governor.

To Be Ready Sept. 8

Myers said the platform will be drawn up for submission to the full Democratic State Committee on Sept. 8. Adlai Stevenson, 1952 presidential candidate speaks the same day at a $100-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Most groups testifying today preferred to withhold their suggestions prior to opening of the hearing session. Appearing were teachers' representatives, labor organizations and social welfare groups. The AFL-Federation of Labor, pointed to a 23-point list of platform suggestion it had handed to both Democrats and Republicans a week ago and said it will stand by those ideas.

Oppose Sales Tax

The list included elimination of the sales tax and all so-called "hidden taxes," liberalizing unemployment compensation benefit eligibility requirements, expansion of civil service, repeal of the ban on strikes by state and public utility workers, increasing workmen's compensation to a $45 a week maximum and establishing a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour.

Joseph A. McDonough, Pennsylvania Federation of Labor president, represented the AFL at the hearing. Harry Boyer, State CIO Council president, was on hand also but preferred to remain mum on issues before taking the stand.

In addition, three Democratic leaders who headed subcommittees to look into special problems to be faced in state government will report on their findings.

Rice To Give Report

The subcommittee chairmen are Sen. John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), reporting on labor problems; John S. Rice, Gettysburg, 1946 candidate for governor, reporting on farm problems; and Sen. Hugh J. McMenamin (D-Lackawanna), reporting on northeastern Pennsylvania industrial development.

All three are platform committee members. The remaining members are: Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr. of Philadelphia, Mayor David L.M. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Rep. H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria), Philadelphia's Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth, 1952 gubernatorial candidate; U.S. Rep. William J. Green Jr., Philadelphia city chairman; Rep. Francis E. Walter of Eastport; Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, Slippery Rock, national committee-woman; Mrs. Ruth G. Horting, Lancaster, state vice-chairman; Mrs. Vincent R. Massocco, Washington, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women; Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-

TO DECIDE ON PROTEST
HARRISBURG (AP) — The Public Utility Commission yesterday fixed Sept. 2 to hold a hearing in Montrose to determine whether Burgess Leon W. Potter had authority to protest in Thompson Borough's behalf against a recent water rate increase.

Potter filed a complaint with the commission opposing an estimated $1,500 rate increase put into effect by the Thompson Borough Water Co., a private corporation, last July 1.

Chinese Premier Host To British

LONDON (AP)—Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai told former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his delegation of Labor party leaders last night he believes their tour of Red China "will play a positive role in strengthening the Chinese-British friendship."

Chou entertained the eight visiting Britons and 300 foreign diplomats and Chinese government officials at an elaborate banquet in Peking punctuated by toasts and speeches at the beginning of each of the 10 courses.

URGE SINGLE RESERVE PLAN FOR U.S. NAVY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three admirals and a businessman have advised the Navy to adopt a single Naval Reserve policy and stick to it.

The men, members of a special reserve evaluation board, said the Navy has presented six different "authoritative" statements on the mission of the reserve and that the six were "incompatible" with each other.

Some of these statements were classified "secret," making it impossible for reservists to learn what their real mission is, the board complained. It blamed Washington for "error, ambiguity, duplication and conflict."

Program Is Good

The board, which has been studying the reserve program since last October, listed its recommendations and criticisms in a report to the secretary of the Navy.

Vice Adm. Felix Johnson, retired, became chairman of the board after the death last January of Adm. W. P. Blandy.

The board found that the Naval Reserve program is generally good and that the air reserve system is "outstanding." It recommended, however, that the Navy make it easier for airmen to get into the reserve program but harder for them to stay in unless they continued active flying.

Urge PI Program

An intense public information program, keynoted by the President, was urged to overcome the feeling of "bitterness and resentment" among reservists who might believe one tour of active duty should discharge their service obligations.

Reservists also need to be told that participation in active training programs will not automatically make them more liable to immediate recall in time of emergency than if they stayed inactive, the board said.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission yesterday put off from tomorrow to next Sept. 8-9, hearings at Harrisburg on complaints against an $887,000 rate increase by the Scranton Spring Brook Water Service Co., Wilkes-Barre. The rate increase went into effect last year.

Catholics May Use More English Now

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Archbishop Albert G. Meyer of Milwaukee told the National Catholic Liturgical Conference last night that the Holy See has granted permission for the English language to be used instead of Latin in certain Catholic ceremonies and blessings in this country.

Archbishop Meyer said he was authorized to announce English could henceforth be used in the sacraments of baptism, marriage and extreme unction and some 25 other ceremonies and blessings. The permission does not extend to the mass, he said.

The first Rhode Island General Assembly met in 1647.

WEST GERMANS PUT BAN ON CRIME BOOKS

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government and educators have started a campaign against what they call the "damaging influence" of se and crime literature on German youth.

Parliament has just passed a law forbidding the sale of certain crime and sex literature to minors banning the display of such books or magazines on newsstands.

The federal government has now established an agency to investigate books and magazines. This agency already has black-listed 40 books, one of them the German translation of Mickey Spillane's "Vengeance Is Mine".

The agency said it might lead minors astray and "belongs to those typical brutal books that endanger West German youth." It called the hero of the book, Mike ammer, a "sadist".

One West German government official said:

"Since the end of the war we have faced a rising crime wave by minors. Crime and sex literature play an important part in this."

Says McCarthy Has Been Cooperative

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews of the Internal Revenue Bureau says the investigation of Sen. Joseph McCarthy's income tax returns is being handled in a routine manner and without special consideration.

Andrews said last night on a TV program the Wisconsin Republican had been "extremely cooperative with us" during the investigation.

PUC GIVES OKAY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission yesterday authorized the Philadelphia Electric Co. to build a substation in Lower Merion Twp., Montgomery County, to increase its power capacity.

A 41 per cent increase in the area's electric load makes construction of the plant necessary, the utility said. The substation will be located near the intersection of Lancaster Avenue and West Wynnewood road.

W.T. Grant, Four-In-One Department Store, Opens Wednesday With Huge Sale

Variety, Hardware, Dry Goods And Fashions Are Departments Featured In New Business Here

In children's panties age 1-6, for example, 25 different styles are featured side-by-side for easy comparative shopping. The price range, too, is varied. In curtains, customers can choose from cottons, nylons, fiberglass, and other materials in all kinds of styles ranging from 42 inches to 192 inches overall and from 63 inches to 90 inches in length. All such items are in stock.

Hardware Division

Each department of Grant's 4-in-1 department store features the same assortment of merchandise. In varying styles, materials, and prices. In the home-hardware division 10 different patterns of dinnerware including imported china are on display. The customer can purchase inexpensive tools of all varieties, or name brands such as Stanley and Dison, or a complete line of Pet power tools. There is a complete line of Lawson lithographed kitchenware, Toastmasters, Sunbeam Mixmasters, and other name brand items for those who desire them.

Grants is proudest of its reputation as "dry goods experts," and the Gettysburg store features "superlative quality at bargain prices." There is a complete line of slip-cover material, which the customer may buy by the yard to make at home or have custom made by Grant experts. There are swatches also of decorator fabrics for drapes, and dress goods by the yard in the latest colors and materials.

Has Pet Shop

In the fashion department, women's better dresses are offered from $4.98 to 10.95 in styles purchased in the New York market within the last ten days. Foundation garments run from $1 to $7.95 with a complete assortment of styles in a variety of makes including Playtex.

The new store will also feature a pet shop with pets ranging from turtles to parakeets. There are eight tanks of tropical fish, colorful parakeets, toys and feeds of all kinds, making this "one of the finest pet shops in this part of the state."

In addition to country-wide name brands, Grant also features its own brands in most departments with substantial savings for quality merchandise. The Gettysburg store, like all others in the Grant chain, purchases about 95 per cent of its material direct from the manufacturers, buying frequently in the local market, so that everything is tailored to suit individual store customers. Fashions are selected by New York experts who can watch latest trends first hand.

Fireproof Building

The Gettysburg Grants is a two-story, fireproof building constructed of cinder block and gyp plank, a steel and concrete fireproof material. Floors are asphalt tile and hundreds of fluorescent lights reveal materials in their true colors. Large "see-through" front windows show the Grant merchandise, and permit window shoppers to see into the store also.

Grant offers comfortable quarters for its 63 employees. Lady employee quarters have a lounge, a wash basin and a stove making it possible for the employees to heat coffee, etc. The quarters are tastefully decorated.

Basement quarters house the heating and air conditioning unit. The rear of the main floor is a receiving room where new merchandise is brought in, transferred to a conveyor belt and shipped upstairs for checking, labeling, tagging etc. The second floor contains the business offices, a sprinkler rubble room, a candy room, and employee quarters. After merchandise is tagged it is returned down the conveyor belt for display on the selling floor. The new space-master counters enable Grant to keep most of its merchandise on the floor.

Experts Train Employees

All employees have been well trained by Grant experts during recent weeks. Although many lacked experience of any sort, training films, recordings, practice, and individual aid have thoroughly prepared them for their new tasks. Grant is as proud of its "courteous, intelligent selling as of its quality merchandise."

Manager of the new Grants is Robert F. Dillon, for eighteen years associated with the company and the initiator of three new stores in the tremendous expansion plan now undertaken by the company. At least 70 new stores are now in process of construction. Dillon spent two months purchasing store items before coming to Gettysburg on July 6.

He has been high in his praise of the local people who have played a part in either the construction or the handling of merchandise. With few exceptions the whole operation from beginning to end has been in the hands of Gettysburgians. Approximately five aides have been borrowed from other Grant stores to train local help. Miss Madge McGreal, from the Altoona Grant store, has acted as office supervisor, and Mrs. Ruth Ruppert, of the York store, has been in charge of sales training. Other Grant veterans have helped in placing counters and similar jobs. Following the opening sales, borrowed personnel will return to their own stores and the Gettysburg store will operate wholly with local people.

35 Departments In Grant Store

Grant stores carry a wide choice of necessities, apparel, and staple merchandise at popular prices. The complete list of Grant departments follows: Art Goods, Candy and Nuts, domestics, footwear, hardware, hosiery, handkerchiefs, gloves, millinery and neckware, children's wear, jewelry, knit underwear, men's and boy's furnishings, girl's wear, women's wear, notions, cotton dresses, toilet goods, housewares, books and stationery, leather goods, toys, furniture and floor covering, electrics, curtains and draperies, dress and wash goods, pet and garden goods, sportswear.

Assistants to Dillon are Nevin Seidel, floorman, and Frank Aroid, assistant manager. In the near future department heads will be named from working personnel, and each department will function as a separate store.

The new store was constructed by L. C. Bowers and Sons, Inc., Princeton, N. J. under the supervision of Charles A. De Santo Jr., Grant construction engineer, who has represented the company in Gettysburg since last November. Much of the work was subcontracted among area firms.

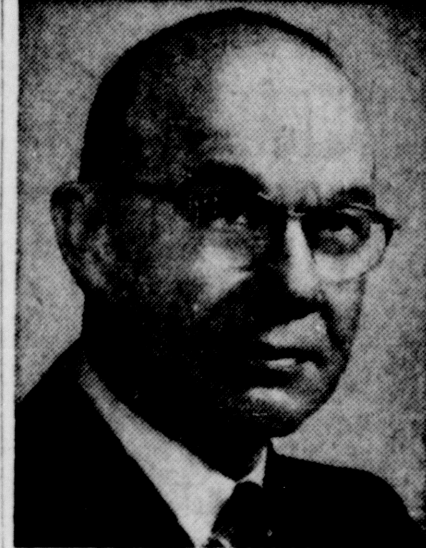

York corporations represented were John Z. Barton, Inc., electrical work; C. C. Kottcamp and Son, plumbing and heating; Standard Roofing Co. roofing and sheet metal work; Union Decorators, painting and decorating; and S. A. Snyderman, stucco and plastering.

The mammoth 40-ton air conditioning unit which guarantees comfortable temperatures at all times was installed by H. G. Simpson, Gettysburg, R. D. 5. Other companies were: Elliott-Lewis Corporation, Philadelphia, heating; Harry J. Ferguson, Company, Jenkintown, McKean, Inc., Philadelphia, glass, glazing and metal work; and Berger Acoustical Company, Philadelphia.

GRANT SUMS UP SUCCESS STORY OF 500 STORES

In a recent interview, W. T. Grant, founder of the chain of more than 500 stores which bear his name, summed up the secret of his success in the great American art of selling: "Not how much can we get — but how much can we GIVE our customers."

Grant, now Chairman of the Board of Directors for the national chain, said that this basic philosophy set the policy of his first store in Lynn, Massachusetts in 1906, and has been the guiding principle in the company's growth through the years. Grant asserted that this will be the policy of the new Grant store opening here Wednesday.

W. T. GRANT

Building team work and a "family feeling" within an organization is also a great boon to success, said Mr. Grant. He is more than willing to give credit to the 13 or 14 girls, who, he says, "made business possible in that first store in Lynn, Massachusetts." Without their help and enthusiasm, he declares, he never would have been able to attain the customer loyalty which brought about the expansion of that store into the present coast-to-coast chain.

Policy Famous

In the beginning, Grant worked closely with the salespeople, managed the store, and did all the buying. Much of his merchandise was women's apparel, and he says, "I'd really get the dickens from the girls if I bought the wrong thing."

Grant's value-giving policy soon became famous, and people began asking him to establish stores in other communities. His second store was opened in Waterbury,

Grants Features Lay Away Buying

Gettysburg's new W. T. Grant store will feature a customer lay-away plan, according to Robert F. Dillon, manager of the new department store.

Under the Grant plan the buyer can have items held for 30 days by small down payments. For articles under $2 a 50 cent deposit is required; for items from $2 to $30, a one dollar deposit is necessary, and for purchases over $30, a ten per cent deposit will hold the material.

63 EMPLOYED BY W. T. GRANT

Sixty-three employees will operate the new Grant company store which opens Wednesday morning. Robert F. Dillon is manager of the new business; Frank Aroid is assistant manager, and Nevin Seidel, floorman.

Other employees are: Howard Neill, receiving clerk; Mrs. Grace Turner, marker; Mrs. Helen Beacom, cashier; Mrs. Rosalie Boyer, utility clerk; Richard Codori, Robert Grubbs, Robert Barnes, Rodney Steinhour, Robert Fridinger, Donald Carter, Mrs. Eleanor Dillon, Shirley Martin, Mrs. Anna Miller, Miss Rosemary Hartman, Marie Wetzel, Mrs. Ida Wormley, Nancy Landis, Sonia Neary, Jean Collins, Mrs. Janice Naugle, Jane Stultz, Anna Boetwick, Eva Swope, and Mrs. Margaret Miller.

Verna Bowmaster, Mrs. Clara Woodward, Deanna Palmer, Mrs. Regina Harman, Jean Preston, Dorothy Riley, Mrs. Esther Hoffman, Mrs. Violet Ankney, Lois Galtier, Phyllis Oyler, Mrs. Patricia Freed, Mildred Tate, Mrs. Corean McMillan, Charlotte Hewitt, Sylvia Green, Connie Starry, Lorraine Myers, Mrs. Edna Welmer, Shirley Wagaman, Mrs. Cornelia Van Doren, Kitty Wenschel, Jean Spertzel, Mrs. Doris Hann, Josephine Flinn, Eleanor Smith, Joyce Sheffer, Mrs. Helen Strayer, Mrs. Margaret May, Mrs. Emma Wachter, Mrs. Betty Sweeney, Dorothy Webster, Mrs. Lillian Black, Nancy Brichter, Mrs. Virginia Meals, Mrs. Arlene Plizer, Victoria Mallette.

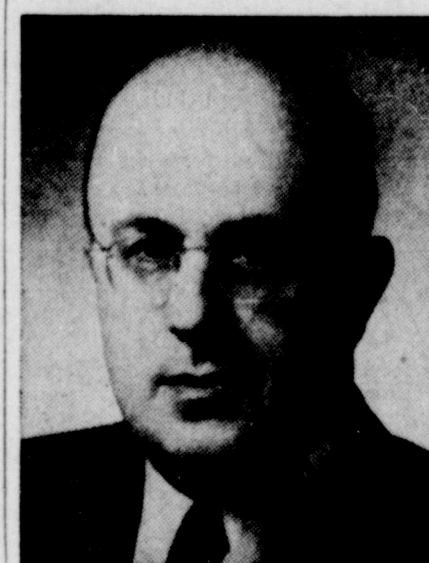

Connecticut, in 1908, followed shortly by another in Bridgeport, Connecticut, and one-by-one store after store until today they teach from Maine to California.

With the growth of the chain came changes in the items sold in the stores. The famous variety and women's wear lines were

KNIES EXPLAINS GRANT SLOGANS IN ALL STORES

"Low price is just a symbol of the outstanding values we bring the public on our counters," said J. L. Knies, director and vice-president in charge of Grant merchandising, when asked to explain the company slogan, "Known for Values."

Knies pointed out that the word "value" means quality, workmanship and style as well as price. "Our buyers must bring the public all these at the lowest price possible. This policy of 'profits in pennies' has made the Grant Company what it is today," he said. The constant aim of improving quality without increasing price, has brought about another development within the company. With rigid specifications for the merchandise Grants sells, Grant brands have been developed. The company's mass buying and distribution power has made it possible for merchandise to be manufactured to its own specifications at lower costs. This results in lower consumer prices.

"We believe that good taste and dependable quality do not need to wear a high price tag," said Knies, "and we have proved it." The success of this policy is evidenced by the steady growth of the company from one to more than 500 stores in less than 50 years.

broadened, and men's and boys' wear, infants' and children's wear, home furnishings and housewares were added. Today the larger Grant stores carry practically everything for the home and family.

GRANT FASHIONS BOUGHT IN N.Y. STYLE MARKETS

Fashions sold in W. T. Grant Co. stores are bought by a staff of buying specialists with headquarters in the heart of the New York fashion market. Their chief function is to be constantly on the alert to bring Grant customers the best of the new style developments.

In addition, Grants also offers specific "fashions of the month" which carry the company's "Joyce Lane" label. In order to merit the "Joyce Lane" identification, a fashion must combine good style with attractive price. The W. T. Grant Company slogan, "Known for Values," applies as rigidly to "Style" as it does to the practical, wearing qualities of Grant-exclusive staple merchandise such as "Grant Maid" sheets or WTG work clothes and hardware.

Authoritative fashion reports are compiled regularly from Grants "Joyce Lane" office to advise store personnel of the latest style trends and how they are reflected in Grant merchandise. These result from attendance at showings by America's leading designers and manufacturers, and present advance information on style features for the season.

In addition, monthly fashion releases with "Joyce Lane's" by-line are sent to publications in communities served by W. T. Grant Co. stores to keep Grant customers advised of the most recent fashion news.

A company spokesman emphasizes that Grants tremendous buying power for over 500 stores

NEW VACATION EMPLOYE POLICY AT W. T. GRANT

Robert F. Dillon, manager of the new W. T. Grant Co. store at 12-14 Chambersburg St., today revealed the company's liberal "expanding vacation" policy, by which Grant employees receive three weeks vacation with pay after five years of employment with the company.

"This is a definite advance over old-fashioned vacation programs," the grant personnel manager noted. "Under many old-type programs 'two weeks with pay' was standard for everyone, whether employed for 2 or 20 years."

Under the "expanding vacation" policy 20-year employees of the company get four weeks of vacation with pay.

Expanding Vacation Policy

Between 1 to 5 years, the employee gets the usual 2 weeks with pay, and after 6 months, he is eligible for one week with pay, provided he or she started work before February of the current year.

"Grants is proud of its expanding vacation policy. The Company feels that such policies encourage people to stay with company, so that their combined long experience results in better service to the community," he said.

Dillon disclosed still another Grant policy which employees look forward to, the Christmas bonus. The amount depends on Company profit for the year as well as the length of the individual's service.

Summing up many a Grant worker's opinion, Dillon says, "We employ all certainly appreciate these benefits — look at me, with Grants for 18 years and anticipating many, many more."

ADS EVERY DAY

Beside items advertised in today's Gettysburg Times, the shopper will find bargains in many other articles not listed. Each day of the huge opening sale, Grants will run additional advertising featuring other value buys.

W. T. GRANT IS SAVINGS STORE FOR THE FAMILY

Core of the W. T. Grant Company's selling philosophy is that all Grant stores from coast to coast are designed to take care of most of the needs of the average American family, from baby to grandmother, "at the lowest possible prices," one official said.

To this end, Grants offers wide assortments of merchandise which can help the family live and dress better with economy. So successful has this program been that Grants has achieved outstanding leadership in distributing many lines of merchandise. "The company, for example, sells more slippers than any other retailer in America, regardless of size," he said.

"A recent survey indicates that Grants sells more children's corduroy playwear than any other retail concern and ranks among the top in sales of many items including infants' training pants, diapers, children's polos, jeans and little girls' dresses. In addition, Grant buyers search for the latest developments in housewares to lighten the tasks of homemakers and make everyday living easier," he added.

Friendly

"People from Maine to California have found that Grant stores are friendly places in which to shop. There is definitely a neighborly family feeling on the part of the sales staff which provides a congenial, pleasant atmosphere and makes one feel at home," he concluded.

The W. T. Grant Co. is proud of this cordiality within its 500 stores and proud, too, of its policy to save families time and energy as well as money when they shop.

Founder Of W. T. Grant Firm Opened First Store In 1906

Product of old Yankee stock, William T. Grant, founder of W. T. Grant Co., is descended from Massachusetts in the sixteen thirties. He was born in Stevensville, Pa., on June 27, 1876, but when he was one year old the family moved back to Massachusetts, where he received his education.

Manager of the shoe department in a large Boston store at 19, he later went with the Salem department store of Almy, Bigelow and Washburn, where he was eventually given charge of several departments. Among these was a small jewelry department representing an investment of about $2,000 and operated by one girl. He also had a large shoe department with a relatively high paid sales force and a stock that represented an investment of $30,000 or $40,000.

Low Priced Items

Grant discovered he was making more money with the jewelry department than with the shoe department. He noticed also that the girl in charge of jewelry was continually coming to him on Monday mornings to say that this 25 cent item and that 25 cent item was out of stock. Impressed by the rapidity of the turnover of 25 cent items on jewelry and other small item departments he concluded, "Wouldn't it be a good idea to open a store devoted entirely to this price line?"

In 1906 he opened such a store in Lynn, Mass. and the idea worked. From that one store grew today's Grant family of over 500 stores with an annual sales volume well over a quarter billion dollars.

In 1924 Mr. Grant, through still a young man, relinquished the presidency of the company and since that time has supervised its growth as Chairman of the Board. Because of his wide and varied interests, however, the extra leisure permitted by this move has never been a problem to him. "Who's Who in America" lists among his activities: "Member, visiting committee Harvard Business School, advisory council Department of Oriental Languages and Literatures, Princeton University, member, American Academy of Political Science and New England Genealogical Society."

Brother An Archaeologist

His interest in the Orient came through his brother, the late Dr. Ellihu Grant, a biblical archaeologist and author of note, who directed archaeological expeditions in Palestine during the late twenties and early thirties. Prior to this he had been professor of Biblical literature at Smith College and Haverford College.

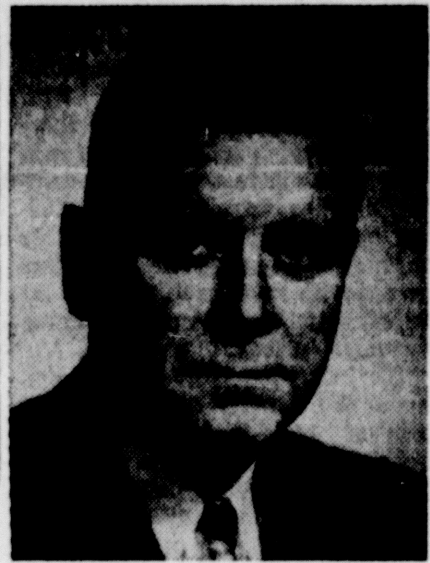

In discussing Grant's interests, one interviewer has commented on his "extraordinary fund of intellectual curiosity" which at one time made him an "ardent amateur philosopher." During later years he has developed a great interest in painting.

But his greatest interest has always been in people and, as he himself has put it, "in helping people, or peoples, to live more contentedly and peacefully, well in body and mind." The Grant Foundation, which he established some years ago, has done much of its work in the area of human relations. In establishing it he recommended to its trustees that the philosophy of the Foundation take into account that "the well being of peoples depends in large measure on the discovery and comprehension of the fundamental principles of human relations which contribute to the welfare of all."

The programs and projects undertaken by the Foundation during the past fifteen years indicate particular emphasis on research, education, training and service which would be of direct or indirect benefit to children and young people in making a satisfactory social and emotional adjustment to modern living, and to families in encouraging healthy, positive family life.

Naturally enough, the people who claim his warmest interest are the men and women who make up the Company which bears his name; particularly the women, to whom he always goes when real Company problems arise because they are closest to the customer. "In the business," he says, "the customer is what counts most, as she is the source of everything we have."

LOUIS C. LUSTENBERGER
Executive Vice President and member of Board of Directors of W. T. Grant.

OVER 500 STORES

The Grant Company has annual sales of over $380,000,000, operating more than 500 stores in 39 states from Maine to California.

ROBERT DILLON IS GRANT STORE MANAGER HERE

Robert F. Dillon, a native of Brownville Junction, Maine, is manager of Grant's department store which opens Wednesday in Gettysburg.

Following his education in the Brownville schools, Dillon began his association with the Grant company in 1936 as a floorman in the Pittsfield, Mass., store. After managerial training in New Britain, Conn., Worcester, Mass., New York City, and Hartford, he was named assistant manager in Hartford. He opened and became manager of a new store in Southington, Conn.

In 1943 he began a three-year hitch with the U. S. Army and following his discharge in 1946 was assigned as store manager at Thompsonville, Conn. Later he was transferred in turn to New York City, Manchester, Conn., and Shamokin.

He is married to the former Lillian Krebs and the father of two daughters, Lynn Joyce, 4, and Dian Lee, 1½. The Dillons are members of the Methodist Church. The new Grant manager is a member of A.F. and A.M., No. 73, Manchester, Conn.

The Dillons reside at 50 W. Water St.

GRANT COMPANY OFFERS GROUP COVERAGE PLAN

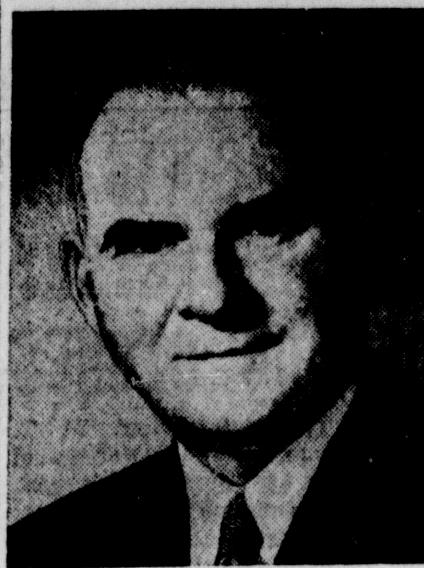

Typical of a modern business trend of providing employee benefits is the low-cost life insurance protection offered employees of the new W. T. Grant Company store, 12-14 Chambersburg St.

"It seems strange that it took business so long to realize that the best employee is one with peace of mind," stated Edward Staley, president of the Grant Company. "I am proud that Grants took steps many years ago to provide adequate insurance coverage for its employees—and pays a major portion of the cost for this coverage," he continued.

Realizing the family financial problems that might accompany the death of an employee, the Grant Company—through a group insurance program—has made it possible for all employees after a year of regular employment to obtain policies without a medical examination if application is made promptly. The amount of the coverage, ranging from $1,000 to $25,000, is based on the individual's annual earnings. The Company pays the entire cost of insurance for those earning less than $3,000 a year and a portion of the cost for those whose earnings are in excess of this figure. Payments on policies are handled through convenient payroll deductions.

Unlike many company insurance programs, Grant Company policies are convertible. If an employee leaves the Company, he may convert his insurance to any individual life policy.

"The best employee is one who can look forward to the future—because his future is protected. Grants Employee's Life Insurance Plan is one of the many Company benefits we offer our 'family,'" said Mr. Staley.

JOHN G. BYLER

Vice President and member of Board of Directors of W. T. Grant.

GRANTS OFFERS LIBERAL PLAN OF RETIREMENT

The employees of the new W. T. Grant Company store at 12-14 Chambersburg St. can look forward to greater security in their later years with the company's liberal retirement program. In the more than 11 years that the plan has been in effect, nearly 600 employees of the national, chain have been retired with benefits.

While most plans have a normal retirement age of 65, the W. T. Grant Company Employees' Retirement Plan provides a life income beginning at 60 years of age. It also contains several special features, such as a liberal life income in the event of disability after only ten years of credited service, or a $1,000 termination benefit for members but after 15 years of credited service. If members die after 15 years of credited service, a $1,000 death benefit is paid, in addition to the company's group life insurance payments.

"Adoption of the retirement plan was a natural outgrowth of the company's desire to provide greater security for its employees," said Edward Staley, president.

6,300 Members

The nearly 6,300 employees of the company who are members of the retirement plan, carry only a small part of the financial burden of its operation. The Grant Company pays about $1,500,000 annually into the fund which now exceeds $20,000,000. Member contributions are a small percentage of earnings above $1,500 a year. The company pays the entire cost of benefits on all income up to $1,500 a year and bears much of the cost of benefits based on income exceeding this figure. Employees on military leave to the armed forces receive special service credits toward retirement on their return to the company. These credits, too, are paid for entirely by the company. Member contributions are returned to employee with interest if he leave before retirement.

The company maintains a policy of retiring all executive personnel at 60 years of age to provide constant top-level openings for younger employees of the company. Employees other than executives may ask for extension of service up to age 65. Administration of the plan is directed by a special Retirement Board of not less than six people, two of whom are elected by the contributing members. The Guaranty Trust Company of New York is trustee of the fund.

Congratulations

4 IN 1 STORE IS GRANT CO. FEATURE HERE

The W. T. Grant Company's establishment of a four-stores-in-one merchandising plan is an integral part of the company's new and improved store program.

A company official explains that under this plan, all new or modernized Grant units now offer shoppers the same assortments they would normally find in four separate stores: 1. a fashion store; 2. a dry goods store; 3. a home-hardware store and 4. a variety store. It is possible for customers to do virtually all the shopping for themselves, their families and their homes under one roof.

"Speed Up Service"

New Grant store buildings are especially designed to house this 4-stores-in-one operation. Because of the vast assortments of merchandise, special counters and display fixtures have been incorporated to speed up service and selection. Departments throughout the store have been arranged by logical merchandise groupings "to save shoppers time and energy in getting around the store." Varying pastel backgrounds further aid in department identification and segregation.

J. L. Knies, Director and Vice-President in charge of merchandising for Grants coast-to-coast organization says that it is the company's aim to save customers time

W. T. Grant Is Board Chairman

The principal officers of the W. T. Grant Company are William T. Grant, founder and chairman of the Board; Edward Staley, president, general manager and member of the Board; Louis C. Lustenberger, executive vice president and member of the Board; John G. Byler, vice president and member of the Board; J. Luther Knies, vice president and merchandise director; Warren G. Finnau, treasurer.

GRANT EMPLOYS 2 LOCAL WOMEN

Two Gettysburg women have been named to positions with the W. T. Grant Company store here. Mrs. Helen E. Beacom, 131 South Washington St., has been named cashier and Mrs. Rosalie Boyer, 22 Fourth St., has been engaged as utility clerk.

Mrs. Beacom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Cunningham, is a native of Gettysburg. She was graduated from St. Francis Xavier High School. She is married to Winfield C. Beacom and is the mother of three children, Susan, Dolores, and Robert. Mrs. Beacom is inspector of elections in the 3rd ward.

Mrs. Boyer, a native of Petersburg, W. Va., is the daughter of Mrs. Eliza and energy as well as money every time they shop.

The new Grants opening here Wednesday, will be 4-stores-in-one.

GRANT STORE COST $200,000

Gettysburg's new Grant department store was constructed at a cost of "approximately $200,000" according to George L. Cobb, Grant Company Store Planning director. Located on Chambersburg St., the new store occupies the site of the razed National Garage. Construction was begun last November under the direction of Charles DeSanto, Grant construction engineer.

Opening festivities will take place Wednesday morning at 8:55 o'clock when Burgess William G. Weaver will cut the ribbons opening the doors. The occasion will be marked by the pealing of the Western Maryland railroad bell which first rang out the appearance of Abraham Lincoln's special train on November 18, 1863 prior to the dedication of the National Cemetery. The bell was also rung on November when President Lincoln departed from Gettysburg.

The bell, which originally hung in the cupola of the Western Maryland railroad station, is now in the temporary custody of The Gettysburg Times.

Grant officials are also expected to attend the store opening.

Rhinehart and the late George Rhinehart of Cashtown. A member of St. James Church, she attended Arendtsville Vocational High School. She is married to Paul R. Boyer and the couple has three children, Robert, 14, Richard, 11, and Rosalie, 5.

Congratulations and Best Wishes W.T. Grant Co.

4-Day Price-Crashing OPENING SALE

VALUES HAVE MADE GRANTS GROW FOR OVER 47 YEARS!

Mr. Grant opened his first store in 1906 with a simple formula for success: "Let us see how much we can give our customers...not how much we can get." Tremendous values drew huge crowds; high quality for little money kept them coming back. In 1908, his second store was opened and growth was steady, year after year. Today, over 500 Grant stores serve thrifty folks in 39 states, each following Mr. Grant's original value formula. It is our pledge to you!

Your new Grants is truly a 1-stop shopping center combining a fashion store, a dry goods store, a home-hardware store and a variety store all under one roof. No more wasting time going from store to store to complete the family's purchases...one trip to the big new Grants does the trick. See for yourself.

DESIGNED FOR EASY SHOPPING CONVENIENCE

Super speed counters and displays are tailored to "shop-at-a-glance" convenience...make your selections as speedily or as leisurely as you wish. Scientific fluorescent lighting reveals the merchandise in its true colors. Pastel walls provide an attractive - eye-appealing background for items displayed.

TREMENDOUS ASSORTMENTS! EVERYTHING YOU NEED!

Grants sixty buying specialists have been working feverishly for months to bring you the greatest assortment of new merchandise it has ever been our pleasure to offer. You'll shop for yourself, your family and your home. You'll save every time you do because Grants prices are low, day-in, day-out.

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR GETTYSBURG

The new Grants is a family store. Its made-to-measure building; modern retail equipment and lines of merchandise were selected to suit the needs of Gettysburg folks. We feel sure you will like the new store; we know you will like the solid savings you will pocket on well made merchandise EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR!
